Symington Wants Money for Flood Control Projects

Senator Requests Budget Bureau To Include Extra $20 Million For Construction in Missouri

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) has asked the budget bureau to include upward of 20 million dollars in next year's budget for four key Missouri flood control projects.

The request was addressed to Budget Director Percival F. Brundage, whose bureau compiles the budget recommendations which the President sends to Congress for its consideration.

Symington requested these amounts, some general and some specified, for the year beginning July 1, 1957:

1. Funds to complete $1,200,000 of planning, now 50 per cent completed, for the $130,987,000 St. Louis flood protection plan, as well as money to begin actual construction of the project. Symington said that St. Louis is the only major city in the nation on a navigable stream "with no flood protection."

2. An additional 15 million dollars for "construction on schedule" of Tuttle Creek dam on Big Blue River near Manhattan, Kan. Symington said that had this dam been in operation during the big flood in 1951, the crest at Kansas City would have been reduced two feet, according to Army engineers. This, the senator said, would have protected the Fairfax Industrial District which suffered a loss of more than 90 million dollars. That loss, he said, is approximately the cost of the Tuttle Creek project.

He added that damage to industry and agriculture in the 1951 flood amounted to more than a billion dollars.

3. An additional 2½ million dollars to continue construction of the Pomme de Terre dam near Hermitage, Mo. The senator said this dam would give protection to 5,300 acres along the Pomme de Terre River and would "play a vital part" in over-all flood protection of the entire Osage River basin.

It would also afford a dependable water supply during drought years and "if deemed advisable, will be capable of developing 16,800 kilowatts of electric power," he said.

4. "Sufficient funds" to maintain construction on schedule of Table Rock Dam near Branson, Mo., part of the White River basin flood control dam.

Adlai Claims Ike Does Only Parttime Job

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson tonight said Dwight D. Eisenhower is a "parttime" and "shadow President" who was not playing golf at critical moments in this country's history.

And he said that this country was caught off guard when the fighting began in Hungary and Poland.

"We were caught off guard," he said, so that when "the fighting broke out in Poland the American ambassador wasn't even at his post — he was visiting Berlin to see his dentist."

"And when the revolt broke out in Hungary our envoy was not even in that country."

Stevenson made two major speeches in California today—only New York has more electoral votes than this state's 32 — and each time he struck hard at the President.

In San Francisco at a noontime rally he said that, as the campaign nears its windup, Eisenhower "remains a shadow candidate — as he has been a shadow President."

And here in Los Angeles, in a speech prepared for delivery at Gilmore Field, he went in detail into the President's vacations and relaxations. He referred especially to 1954, which he called "a time of deep trial and anxiety."

A sample of Stevenson's criticism:

"On Feb. 19th, Secretary Dulles returned from the critical four-power conference in Berlin. He couldn't report to the President. The New York Times said 'It was golf again today for President Eisenhower at Palm Springs.'"

Or again, Stevenson said:

"On April 13th, Mr. Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden met to explore the possibilities of joint action—joint military action—in Indochina. The New York Times reported that President Eisenhower had landed in the South 'to begin a golfing vacation.'"

Chamber of Commerce Elects New Directors

Seven new directors for the Chamber of Commerce were announced Saturday. New officers will be elected at the board meeting on Oct. 30.

The new directors are Joe Rudnick, P. Cecil Owen, Jess Brown, D. Kelly Scruton, Paul O. Hunnell, Wes Murphy and Everett Stevenson. Holdover directors are Jim Van Wagner Jr., William K. Gibson, Mrs. Lucille White, Virgil Corson, Harry Naugel, Keith Yount, Mike Giokaris.

PREACHES HERE — The Rt. Rev. Robert Nelson Spencer, D.D., retired Bishop of West Missouri, will preach this morning at the 11 o'clock service in Calvary Episcopal Church. Bishop Spencer, widely acquainted in Sedalia, will be supplying for the Rev. Edward R. Sims, who will be in Springfield for the weekend conducting a parish life conference. Sunday is the 26th anniversary of Bishop Spencer's consecration as the third bishop of West Missouri. The Sedalia parish is particularly honored to entertain Bishop Spencer on this occasion.

Ike Checks In For Pre-election Physical Tests

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower checked in at Walter Reed Army Hospital today for a pre-election physical examination.

The President started in with chest and heart X-rays as he headed through the head-to-toe examination which he told the American people he would undergo before the Nov. 6 balloting.

Eisenhower has said that he would step out of the political race instantly at any time that his health wasn't up to taking on another term in what has been called the world's toughest job.

Eight physicians, four military and four civilians, were in charge of the checkup along with heads of various departments and clinics at the hospital.

The President was smiling and joking as he walked into the hospital. His press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said Eisenhower was feeling "fine."

UN Council to Study Russ Move in Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 27 (AP)—The U. N. Security Council today was called into urgent meeting Sunday to study Soviet military action in Hungary.

Chief delegates of the United States, Britain and France jointly asked for the session, charging foreign military forces are violently repressing the peoples' rights in Hungary in violation of the 1947 Hungarian peace treaty.

The complaint did not identify the foreign troops.

But the three Western powers clearly referred to Soviet forces stationed in Hungary and used against Hungarian anti-Communist rebels and demonstrators at the request of the Communist government in Budapest.

The meeting will begin at 4 p.m. EST.

The joint action followed up Secretary of State Dulles' conference with President Eisenhower this morning on the situation in Hungary and Poland.

Dulles then flew to Dallas, where in a speech tonight he held out the promise of U. S. economic aid to those countries.

Evidently to meet any Soviet objections, Dulles said the United States does not regard Poland and Hungary as "potential military allies."

In Washington, the United States also protested to the Hungarian legation that the United States had been cut off from communication with its legation in Budapest since Thursday noon.

Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy handed the protest to Todor Zador, first secretary of the Hungarian legation, at the State Department.

Economic Aid After Revolt Is Mentioned

Dulles Is Careful To Sidestep Chance Of Military Alliance

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 27 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles tonight held out the promise of U. S. economic help to Hungary, Poland or other countries which may gain independence of Soviet rule.

But he asserted that the United States does not "look upon these nations as potential military allies." This was an evident effort to assure Russia that its security would not be endangered.

In a speech prepared for the Dallas Council on World Affairs, he also said that the United States and its allies must maintain conventional as well as atomic military forces because "it would be reckless to risk everything on one form of armament."

His speech, a general foreign policy survey, touched on these other main points:

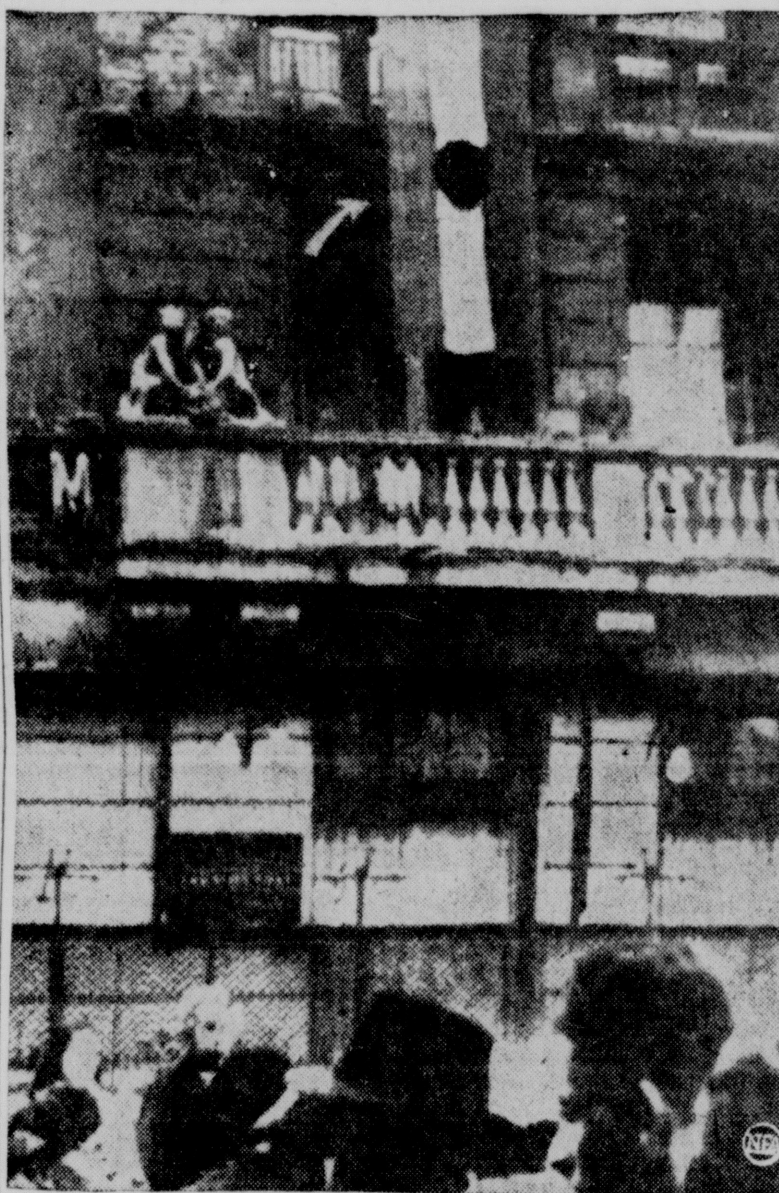

1. In addition to rejection of Soviet rule in some Eastern European countries there seems to be "an irreversible trend" toward greater freedom for people inside Russia and this may bring the day when Russia and the United States "can deal with each other as friends."

2. The Suez Canal controversy remains grave with some "disturbing factors, unrelated to the canal itself." Dulles did not say what factors he had in mind but he may have referred to Russian trouble-making in the Middle East, Arab-Israeli flareups and French-Arab conflict in North Africa.

3. The nations of the free world are still seeking "a solid economic foundation for their freedom" and it is vital that they succeed. Dulles added: "Surely it is within the capability of the free world to assure that no people, dedicated to freedom, have to choose between Communist servitude and economic destruction."

Dulles dealt with the crisis of communism in Eastern Europe in general terms but he did outline his thinking on several points.

"The captive peoples," he said, "should never have reason to doubt that they have in us a sincere and dedicated friend who shares their aspirations."

Singapore Riots Continue; Death Toll Reaches 14

SINGAPORE, Oct. 27 (AP)—The death toll in the Singapore riots rose to 14 today, and police reinforcements from Johore and Malaya were rushed to this British island colony to stamp out the disorders, now in their third day.

More than 150 persons injured in the fighting were in hospitals. Rioting in scattered parts of the city continued all day, but not on a large scale.

Police fired volleys to break up several minor charges by rioters, including one attempt to raid a police station. Nearly 600 persons, including 150 Chinese secret society members, had been rounded up by nightfall. It was on similar secret society members that British authorities blamed rioting in Hong Kong recently which claimed 43 lives.

Chinese secret society members—known by tattoos on their bodies—have openly joined the thousands of Communist-led high school students who started the riots Thursday night, protesting a ban calling their student union a Communist front. Police began an island-wide search for known secret society members this afternoon.

Dr. C. Stabley Lowell, noted writer and lecturer, will be the featured speaker. Music will be provided by the Men's Choral Club directed by Abe Rosenthal. Worship leaders will be the Rev. A. F. Klemme, Don Lamm and the Rev. Thomas Croxton.

Local Agriculture Offices Are Moving To a New Location

The local offices of the two agencies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the ASC and the FHA, that have been occupying offices at 209½ South Ohio, are moving to new office space that is being provided in the Central Business College building at 605 South Massachusetts. The moving is expected to be completed by Thursday, Nov. 1.

Both the agencies have experienced expanded programs in recent months and the space from which they are moving has become too crowded for providing the most efficient service to the agricultural interests of the areas that both are serving. The local ASC office serves Pettis County and, with the additional of the Soil Bank program recently, has required an increase in office personnel in already limited office space. The local office of the FHA has been serving both Pettis and Benton Counties for the last several months which has also required an increase in personnel working in and out of the local office.

The FHA office will have completed its move and be open for service on Wednesday morning, Oct. 31, while the ASC office will not have completed its moving and be ready for service until Thursday morning, Nov. 1, according to the local heads of the two agencies.

Pope Issues Letter Asking Christians' Prayers for Hungary

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 27 (AP)—Pope Pius XII issued an encyclical letter tonight calling upon the Christian world to pray for peace and justice for the people of Hungary, which "is torn apart by conflict."

The encyclical was addressed to bishops throughout the world. It referred to the "very sorrowful events which have struck the peoples of Eastern Europe, especially Hungary, very dear to us," and called for public supplications to obtain justice and peace for them.

New Regime Fails to Halt Bloody Revolt

Hungary Red Cross Calls for Emergency Medical Aid, Food

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 27 (AP)—Hungary's new Defense Minister Gen. Karoly Janza told the nation tonight Russian and Hungarian troops had wiped out most rebel strongpoints in Budapest.

But reports reaching Vienna said Hungary still is gripped by a bloody civil war.

Janza himself acknowledged there still is fighting in Budapest, but he insisted it is confined to a few rebel strongpoints in the capital.

Perhaps anticipating the U. N. Security Council meeting called for tomorrow to consider the role of Soviet troops in combating the uprising in Hungary, Janza denied the Russians had participated in any large scale operations in Budapest. But he said that at the request of the Hungarian government the Soviet soldiers have helped and still are helping "break the resistance of groups opposing the forces of the workers."

The Soviet news agency Tass reported from Budapest "a majority of the insurgents have laid down their arms" in answer to the Hungarian government's offer of amnesty "but some groups so far have not understood there is no way out but surrender."

Janza spoke after Hungary's Communist bosses tried to end the rebellion by forming a new government with two non Communist Cabinet ministers.

Kansas Citian Is Fatally Stabbed Here

Virgil Lee Cramer Is Victim; Attack Occurs Late Friday

Virgil Lee Cramer, 27, was fatally wounded about 10:20 p.m. Friday in a fracas at the Green Pastures. Cramer died during an emergency operation at the Bothwell Hospital at 2:55 a.m. Saturday.

A 2C J. T. "Tex" Gainey, 18, of the 340th Motor Vehicle Squadron, Whiteman Air Force Base, has been charged with first degree murder in the court of Magistrate Frank T. Armstrong by Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick.

The incident took place in the garden of the Green Pastures. According to reports Cramer was in the place with his former wife and other friends sitting at a table and he got up and walked outside to see what was going on. They reported a fight had taken place in back and Cramer wasn't in it, but went to see what was happening.

He was outside when he suddenly was struck twice. He called out he had been stabbed. Police were called and the Ewing ambulance summoned, and Cramer was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital where he was given emergency treatment by Dr. Proctor and X-ray pictures taken.

The emergency operation was found necessary and he was rushed to the operating room when Dr. Proctor and Dr. T. J. Hopkins operated in an attempt to save his life.

Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors after questioning several persons issued a pick up order for Gainey. Officers checking various places (Please turn to page 4, column 6)

Knob Noster Man Seriously Hurt In Auto Mishap

Verlin Corbett, 56, Route 2, Knob Noster is in serious condition at the Bothwell Hospital suffering from a fracture of the skull in an automobile accident six miles northeast of Knob Noster about 8 a. m. Saturday. Two other persons suffered lesser hurts in the accident.

Corbett was driving a 1950 Dodge sedan headed west on a farm road, and the other vehicle involved, a 1954 Ford sedan driven by Ragner L. Lyle, 27, was going south, when the two cars met at the intersection.

Trooper Richard Joos, State Highway Patrol, reported the Ford hit the right front fender and door of the Dodge spinning it around and slamming it into the right side of the Ford. The car driven by Lyle then crashed into a telephone pole.

Corbett and his son, David, 16, were brought to the Bothwell Hospital where Dr. H. W. Groves, Knob Noster, attended them. The boy suffered minor abrasions, a sprained right knee, and slight concussion. His father, an x-ray revealed, suffered a fractured skull.

Lyle received minor scratches. Both automobiles were badly wrecked.

Man Seriously Hurt by Youth In Stabbing

Wendell Harrison Allen, 21, 116 East Jefferson, was seriously wounded about 4:30 p.m. Saturday when stabbed three times in the back by a half-brother, at the home of their mother, Mrs. Lucille Curd, 421 West Jefferson. The incident occurred as a result of an argument between the two over a motorcycle.

Allen said his brother, Wilson Lee Curd, Jr., 16, had been playing around a motorcycle and he told him to leave it alone. Curd then left and went to the Hubbard Park to play football, then returned home later and they had another argument.

Curd, it was said, picked up a rock or something and started to throw it whereupon Allen chased him. As they went around they got into a tussle. Curd, it was reported, pulled a "switch blade" knife which he had used for whittling.

Allen said he turned and was struck in the back. He said he did not know he was stabbed until he started becoming weak. The Curd boy ran up the street and Allen went into the house and called his grandmother, Mrs. Frances Price, with whom he lives. She in turn called Dr. A. R. Maddox and he notified the police.

The police caught the Curd boy up the street and he went with them to recover the knife which he had thrown away while running from the scene. The Ewing ambulance took Allen to the hospital where he was treated by Dr. Maddox. He suffered a wound in the upper part of the back near the shoulder blade, another near the small of the back, and it was thought it might have caused the third place in the back, going in and coming out.

Allen was admitted to the hospital for further observation.

The Curd boy was questioned by Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick after which, being a juvenile, he was confined to the women's quarters at the County Jail. No charges were filed against him immediately.

Nurses Association Holds Meeting At Whiteman AFB

The 10th District, Missouri State Nurses Association, held a dinner meeting at the Whiteman Air Force Base Oct. 23. Upon arrival at the base the Registered Nurses toured the air base by bus.

Weber as the host and hostesses of the evening, and following the dinner they conducted a very interesting and instructive tour of the base hospital. The nurses were impressed with the wonderful equipment in the new 50-bed hospital at the base and the large supply of drugs on hand at all times.

Forty-seven nurses from Clinton, Lexington, Warrensburg, Marshall, Higginsville, Warsaw and Sedalia attended the meeting.

Ann Fuller, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fuller, 408 West Fourth, is in the Independence Sanitarium, Independence, Mo., where she is receiving treatment for a compound fracture of the right arm. Ann was playing on playground equipment at Liberty Park last Sunday when she fell and broke the arm. She is a student at Sacred Heart grade school.

The afternoon service was conducted by Dr. Hix. The Rev. W. L. Robb, pastor of the Longwood Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and Mrs. William D. Robb, Houstonia, former member, sang "My Task." Talks were given by Rev. Jackson, Rev. Robb, Rev. Sampson and Mr. Raut.

Several in the congregation were recognized including Mrs. Herman Taylor, wife of a former pastor; Miss Catherine Pile, Marshall, for many years superintendent of the children's department; Mrs. Lewis Leaton, Ottoville, church pianist for many years; C. V. Jones, Sedalia, and Miss Clara Brown, Marshall.

Miss Mattie Ezell read the history of the church, beginning with its organization in 1856 near Marshall Junction in a school house, later moving to Longwood and occupying the same building with the Presbyterians. In 1890 they sold out to the Presbyterians and built a church at the north end of Longwood, which was destroyed by fire in 1915. A new building was dedicated in 1917, which is still standing.

Of the building committee, only one member, James Alexander, Longwood, remains. There have been many changes over 100 years, but the love of the church will remain in the hearts of many for years to come.

This was apparently the only message allowed through Hungary's blackout on direct communications with the West.

Amid rumors he acted with a Russian pistol at his head, Premier Imre Nagy announced formation in embattled Budapest of a new national front government intended to appease the rebels' demand for administrative reforms and freedom from Moscow.

The new Cabinet includes two of Nagy's fellow ex-purges, Zoltan Tildy and Bela Kovacs, of the once-powerful Smallholders party. But the key jobs stayed in Communist hands and the new government fell far short of the rebels' demands.

The first order of the day by the new defense minister, Communist Gen. Karola Janza, called on the defection-ridden Hungarian army to "proceed without interruption to the liquidation of positions in the hands of the rebels."

"Troops not yet engaged in fighting are to prepare to enter the fight," Janza said.

The Iron Curtain fronting on neutral Austria crumpled. Communist frontier guards abandoned their red-stared watch towers - apparently under orders to reinforce Soviet and Hungarian troops fighting the rebels in the east - and soldiers on the side of the revolution swarmed into the border areas. All the 150-mile highway from Budapest was reported in rebel hands.

"We are brothers again," the rebels shouted to Austrian frontier police. "Now we can talk to you as free men."

Fifteen overtime parkers who failed to appear in police court forfeited their cash bonds of $1 each and there were 57 others who paid the 25-cent fee by reporting to headquarters within a half-hour after getting a ticket.

100th Longwood Methodist Church Homecoming Held

Sunday, Oct. 21, was a happy occasion for members, former members and friends of the Longwood Methodist Church as they gathered for a homecoming and celebration of the 100th birthday of the organization of the church.

Dr. C. E. Hix, Bible teacher at Central College, Fayette, gave the morning sermon, assisted by two former pastors, Dr. A. B. Jackson, Jefferson City, and the Rev. William Sampson, Marshall. A basket dinner was enjoyed by nearly 100 people. Irwin Raut, Sedalia, and former worker, gave the invocation.

The afternoon service was conducted by Dr. Hix. The Rev. W. L. Robb, pastor of the Longwood Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and Mrs. William D. Robb, Houstonia, former member, sang "My Task." Talks were given by Rev. Jackson, Rev. Robb, Rev. Sampson and Mr. Raut.

let it be known they wanted to talk to him. It was about 2:25 a.m. when Gainey appeared at police headquarters in company with two other Air Force young men and said he understood they wanted to talk with him.

At that time he told Chief Neighbors he had participated in a fight, according to the report, but at first denied any knowledge of the stabbing of Cramer. After police had been informed Cramer had died at the hospital they again began questioning Gainey and he verbally admitted the attack.

Later Saturday morning Prosecuting Attorney Barrick talked with Gainey and then filed the murder charge against him. Gainey was removed from the custody of the City police and taken to the County Jail.

Dr. J. M. Rodeman, acting coroner, viewed the body and after talking with Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick and in view of the statement Gainey had reportedly given to Chief Neighbors and his officers, said an inquest would not be necessary.

Cramer, who formerly resided in Sedalia, resided at 1229 Monroe, Kansas City.

He was born in Sedalia Dec. 26, 1928, son of Virgil Roy and Bessie Todd Cramer. Mr. Cramer attended Sedalia Public Schools. He enlisted in the service in 1947 and served 39 months in the army. He was discharged from the reserves in Feb. 1955. Mr. Cramer was employed at Barnes Mfg. Co., North Kansas City.

His father preceded him in death on Friday, Oct. 19.

Surviving him are his wife Joan, an expectant mother, of the home in Kansas City, a daughter Dianna Lee Cramer, of Sedalia by a previous marriage; his mother Mrs. Bessie Foster of the home in Kansas City; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Polly Cramer, 1532 East Fifth; stepfather Archie Foster of the home; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Todd, 309 North Heard. Several uncles and aunts also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 p.m. Monday at the Gillespie Funeral Home with the Rev. Chester B. Potts, pastor of the Church of the Open Bible officiating. Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

The body is at the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Parliamentary Procedure Skit Is Presented

An informative and interesting skit on parliamentary procedure was presented to the Sedalia Jaycees at their regular meeting Thursday night in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel.

The skit took the form of a regular club meeting and pointed out the proper way to conduct such a meeting and avoid common errors.

In the skit, motions were made and amended according to recommended procedure and were repeated to show errors. Other points portrayed in the skit were the order of precedence of motions, the proper way to table a motion, to rescind and to refer to a committee.

Bob Hare was program chairman and took part in the skit. Others in the skit were Dick Thomas, chairman; Harold Barrick, commentator; Charles Wendt, Pete Potter, Jim Van Wagner, Don Richardson and James Askren, all members of the audience.

Earl Euhler, district vice-president, and John McMeekin, orientation chairman for the Fifth District, were guests at the meeting. Euhler congratulated the club on the success of its recent membership drive, on the number of projects already completed for the year and the number that are being worked on at the present time.

It was pointed out that the Sedalia Jaycees have completed 14 projects since the beginning of their calendar year on May 1 and have 12 others underway.

The Jaycees topped their membership goal by 15 to bring the total to 130 members.

Home and Building

2 Rooms Have Most Changes

Changing living habits, newest developments in the field of electrical and mechanical devices for more comfortable living, and the perpetual desire to "keep up with the Jones"—are motivating factors that make older homes less desirable to their owners and stimulate the ever-growing trend to residential remodeling.

Home-owners ask—is it possible to bring these old homes up to modern standards? Yes! In most cases it is more economical to remodel and renovate than selling at a sacrifice and building a new!

Which portions of the house are most likely to be out of date? The two rooms where the greatest changes have been made are the kitchen and the bathroom.

Many times there is enough space in the old kitchen to do an expert rejuvenating job. If the service porch, entry way or old-type pantry is included in the remodeling plan—even more space can be made available.

Our modern kitchens gleam with porcelain, tile, aluminum and other metals, formica and fine woods. Built-ins, multi-purpose storage cabinets, lazy susan shelves, cabinet sinks—all make every bit of wall and floor space count for maximum efficiency.

Breakfast bars and eating nooks are all helping the kitchen take on more of the living room air. Even fireplaces and barbecue equipment can be an integral part of family living in the kitchen.

The bathroom is the second room in the house where changes have been made.

There should be at least one shower and one bathtub in every home. If they can be separate units—so much the better.

Built-in lavatories with counter space and storage units are important bathroom accessories. Medicine chests are recessed, larger and handsome. Ceramic tile terrazzo, linoleum or asphalt or vinyl tiles add color and keep bathroom floors easy to clean.

Wall surfaces will take tile or plastic coverings for bright beauty and cleanliness.

High on the list of wanted home improvement is a new, convenient heating system. The time is nearing when the average homeowner will consider both heating and cooling systems a "must" for his home.

In planning, the conditioning units for home comfort, the range of units is large and varied. There are sizes and types for every home and every possible climate. Newest compact furnaces and cooling systems can often be fitted into closet areas.

Paint, wallpaper, new built-ins in other rooms in the home, when combined with careful planning and ingenuity can help transform even the oldest rooms to fresh new beauty.

Heavy ornate moldings, over-size fireplaces and mantels, clumsy book cases and closets, dark woodwork and trims can all be easily and economically eliminated. Wallpaper and paint treatments can help hide architectural flaws, and give a new look to old living, dining and bedrooms.

Storage Space Is One Of Most Important Features in Homes

What's your inventory on storage space in your home? Or does every closet and cupboard look like "Fibber McGee's" famous one!

Storage space is one of the most important features for any house, whether you are judging a new plan or remodeling an old house.

An indication of what is considered a minimum storage allowance for an average family is contained in FHA regulations for houses built without basements.

In addition to all coat closets and bedroom closets required in a house, there must be 150 cubic feet of extra storage space, plus 50 cubic feet more for each bedroom.

This places the minimum for a three-bedroom house, without basement, at 300 cubic feet of storage space in excess of regular closets.

Hardwood Flooring Often Lasts Longer Than Life of Home

Hardwood flooring has been a favorite of American homeowners since the rough hewn oak planks of colonial times, to today's scientific kiln-dried hardwoods.

Hardwood flooring is famed for its durability, often outlasting the life of a home. Also hardwood flooring is still the accepted standard of quality in home construction. Today the manufacturing and ingenuity of the hardwood industry has reduced costs, so that hardwood flooring can be used in even the most modest priced homes.

Oak is the most widely used hardwood. Hard maple, beech, birch and pecan rank next.

Unnecessary Tributes, Ads Are TV Fault

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Things I can do without on TV—

Choreographed commercials with dancers tripping gayly around the new cars. Does that sell automobiles?

The presentation of so-called awards. Last week Don Larsen got one as the Athlete of 1956. Sure, his no-hitter was something great, but 1956 isn't over yet and the Olympic Games haven't even been held.

Tributes to James Dean. Let his own acting write the tribute.

Wealthy people getting wealthier on quiz shows. The most absurd instance: pitting Vincent Price against Edward G. Robinson.

Interviewers who needle public figures on TV press conferences. Get the facts, yes, but there's no need to be nasty about it.

Ad agencies that turn up the sound volume when the commercial comes on. We can hear, we can hear!

Pitting two goods shows against each other so the conscientious viewer has to keep flipping channels. Like Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen.

Shows that try to sneak four commercials into one half-hour. Enough is enough!

Announcers who insist on repeating what is printed on the screen.

Newspaper dramas in which the reporter never checks with his office.

The Cherokee, with an estimated population of 50,000, is the second largest Indian tribe in the United States.

Stephen Day was the first printer in what now is the United States.

Cell Lines to Headlines

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Thirty inmates in the first college course ever taught at Menard State Prison are studying an honest way to make headlines.

They're enrolled in a 12-week course in basic journalism presented by a visiting professor from nearby Southern Illinois University.

Gerald E. Bonen Is Assigned to Battalion

Army Pvt. Gerald E. Bonen, son of Herman J. Bonen, Blackwater, recently was assigned to the First Special Troops Battalion at Fort Benning, Ga.

Bonen is assigned to the battalion's Company C. He entered the Army last June and completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark. The 21-year-old soldier was graduated from Boonville High School in 1954.

"All donations, large and small, are appreciated," he continued, "and the increased amounts given each year is proof that the people of the community, as well as over the world, are aware of the danger of the great killer and are all out in a march to stamp it out with research."

Public Library Notes--

Books of Special Interest To Women Are Added

Books of special interest to women readers were among new non-fiction titles received by the Sedalia Public Library this week.

Five members of the Westmore family, all employed in various Hollywood make-up departments, have combined to write "The Westmore Beauty Book," which they call a "encyclopedia of beauty."

Special chapters on make-up, hair styling, beauty problems, the figures and personality, are in addition to a section on photographic make-up, beauty progress charts, beauty aids, etc. The Westmores explain with simple, easy-to-follow illustrations every aspect of beauty care, and answer every beauty problem that any woman might have.

Women who sew will find two excellent new books of help. "Creative Sewing," by Allyne Bane, shows how to style home-made garments without that "homemade look." A wealth of practical pointers on sewing are in this book, from the equipment you need and suggestions for buying fabrics economically, to common pattern alterations and timesaving shortcuts that are safe even for beginners to use.

Clarksburg Passes Bonds on Second Try

Clarksburg citizens approved a water bond issue by a large majority after the bond was defeated in a previous election. In the first vote 67 voted against the bond, and the two-thirds majority needed was not obtained. This week 140 voted for the bond issue with only 44 against.

"Pick-Up Needlework" is unique in that the majority of the articles described are small enough to be carried or they may be worked in small sections and assembled later. There are directions for up-to-the-minute fashions for women, timeless classic sweaters, heirloom corset, toys for the children, attractive baby clothes, accessories to delight the teenager, and handsome presents for the man of the house.

"Dress Smartly" by Mildred Graves Ryan, is a manual to help women achieve a smart appearance by the wise choice of clothes and accessories.

All the instructions needed to start right in making your own rugs are given in "Handmade Rugs" by Doris Aller. By following simple "how-to-do-it" instructions, plus step-by-step drawings and photographs, the reader may learn how to hook, braid, lace, knot, and weave good rugs with a minimum of equipment.

The age-old craft of hooking rugs is given even more comprehensive coverage in "Choice Hooked Rugs" by Stella Hay Rex, a foremost authority and teacher of the subject.

A little diced leftover ham and cooked rice plus diced celery cooked until soft in butter make a fine stuffing for green peppers. Cut off ends of peppers and scoop out seeds and membranes; parboil the peppers for about five minutes in lightly salted water, then stuff and top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven, in a pan with about a half-inch of water in it, until the peppers are tender and the tops browned -- about half an hour.

Living Cost Has a Triple Significance

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of living has a triple significance today. Since it started rising last March after a long period of moving side-wise it quickly became a table top in many a home. The cost of living index means much to millions of workers because their pay scales are tied to its up-and-down movements. But today the index especially interests the politicians. They hope to make some last-minute hay out of it.

The index is actually the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index, but popularly it is accepted as measuring trends in the cost of living.

It has been widely assailed by critics who doubt if it reflects accurately the cost of living for most folk, or if it is authoritative enough for wage scales to depend upon it. Some complain that on its list of items supposedly purchased by middle income city dwellers are many luxuries and goods bought sparingly, if at all, by many families.

Critics claim the index uses list prices instead of discount or bargain sale prices. A smart shopper, they say, can do better.

The Labor Department's BLS has answers for these criticisms. It says the goods and services on its list are the things that people actually spend money for. BLS isn't interested in whether these are luxuries or not—whether they should or shouldn't spend their money that way.

As for discount houses, which BLS doesn't sample, it says that other stores have cut prices to meet the competition. And, anyway the total of all appliances and furnishings subject to discount practices is less than 5 per cent of the "market basket" it makes up each month.

Above all the index is set up to measure the change in prices as noted by the average city family. It doesn't measure the shopping ability of individual housewives, nor changes in the spending habits of individual families.

But, as with most bureaus, the BLS waits a long time to change the makeup of its fixed market basket.

MEDICOS DOOM ACE—

Physicians have told 34-year-old John T. Godfrey, pictured as a World War II air ace, that he has but one to two years left to live. The 6-foot, 200-pound veteran has amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, an ailment similar to muscular dystrophy. Now a prosperous operator of a textile mill at South Freeport, Me., Godfrey is credited by the Air Force with downing 29 enemy planes.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMEND

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

RICHARD M. NIXON
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

We, the candidates listed below believe in the great truth given us by President Eisenhower:

"In all those things which deal with people, be liberal, be human. In all those things which deal with people's money, or their economy, or their form of government, be constructive."

Peace...

Under the vigilant and inspired leadership of President Eisenhower, the United States has advanced foreign policies which enable our people to enjoy the blessings of liberty and peace.

This is a peace achieved through world statesmanship under the guiding hand of our president... not a false peace created in political oratory.

What was the situation when President Eisenhower took over the reins in 1953? Where was the peace we had won in 1945?

In 1953, we were engaged in the Korean War, freedom was under assault, despotism was on the march and tensions mounted throughout the world.

Now, we are at peace, and the threat of global war has receded. Since America must be strong to maintain peace, we believe it is essential that the vast experience of our proven leader, President Dwight Eisenhower, continue to guide our country in the achievement and maintenance of a just, honorable and durable peace.

Prosperity...

Under the Republican Administration our great country has prospered, and so have its people. We have the highest employment, the highest wages and the highest standard of living ever enjoyed by any nation... and by this nation in peacetime.

Today, there are nearly 67 million men, and women at work in the United States, 4 million more than in 1952. Wages have increased substantially, but more important, the American wage earner today can buy more than ever before for himself and his family, because his pay check has not been eaten away by rising taxes and soaring prices.

The Eisenhower Administration by jealously guarding the free institutions and preserving the principles upon which our nation was founded and has flourished, has created an economic climate in which has grown a dynamic prosperity which is fairly shared by all citizens.

Prosperity and peace concern all of us... and so does voting on election day... if our peace and prosperity is to be maintained.

Progress...

The past four years have given us progress such as the world has never before experienced. This was brought about by an honorable peace, which stopped the bitter toll in casualties and resources, ending depressing wartime restraints, curbed the runaway inflation, and unleashed the boundless energy of all Americans to forge forward on the road to progress.

And that progress will continue to gain momentum, because the Republican Party which fostered this prosperity is dedicated to its expansion and to the preservation of the climate in which it has thrived.

As President Eisenhower puts it in his statement of principles, "The spirit of our people is the strength of our nation", and our people with a strong spirit, with inspired leadership will continue to put their best thought and whole energy to a continuation of our prized peace, prosperity and progress."

Federated Church Holds Annual Luncheon In Honor of Missionary to West Africa

The Mary Hurlbut luncheon, the annual thank offering meeting for the wonderful work Miss Mary Hurlbut has been doing in Missao do Elende, Angola, West Africa, for the past 33 years, was held at the Federated Church at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Oct. 25.

Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, missionary chairman in charge of the program, stated that a number of people of the church well remembered when Mary Hurlbut went from the Federated Church into the mission field and how thrilled they all were. She told, too, of how they had tried to help her in every way they could.

Special guests at the luncheon were Miss Hurlbut's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hurlbut. Mrs. Hurlbut read a letter written by Mary Hurlbut for the occasion.

"This has been a big year in the history of Elende Station,"

Prohibition Party Choice Is Ex-Teacher

GREENVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Greenville is a hilltop southern Illinois of 4,100 citizens — one of them a candidate for president of the United States.

He is Enoch A. Holtwick, a retired college professor and the recognized leader of the Prohibition party.

Holtwick has brought his party's message to thousands of listeners. But only in 11 states have his efforts been rewarded with a spot on the Nov. 6 election ballot.

Even his home state is missing from the list.

"That's the thing that breaks my heart," he said in an interview at his home.

"Illinois law requires us to obtain 25,000 signatures in petitioning for our party's right to the ballot," he said. "That's a hardship difficult to overcome."

Holtwick, permanent chairman of the party's last four conventions and its vice-presidential candidate in 1952, was an obvious choice to head the ticket. His running mate is Edwin M. Cooper, a Montebello, Calif., attorney.

Holtwick is 75. His first wife died in 1939. He since has married a widow who once attended his history and government classes at Greenville College. He retired in 1951 after 32 years of teaching. She now heads the school's home economics department.

The Prohibition party ticket appeared on 20 state ballots in the 1952 presidential election and polled 72,387 votes.

Holtwick doesn't expect his vote to approach that total "unless the good Lord is pleased to give special attention to our cause."

"We're at a low in our fight to build a party to pull us from the worst mess in the history of the liquor traffic," he said.

And to make prohibition stick, Holtwick feels the movement must have its own party in power, not just another amendment to the Constitution.

"The major parties opened their arms to the dry voters once before in 1928 and when it suited their purpose they sold us down the river," he said.

"This is not a government of good men and women, but of political parties, and the crying need is a party in power which believes traffic in beverage alcohol to be a political as well as a moral question."

Holtwick called the presidential candidates of both major parties "the best they have had for many moons."

"But both parties are tied up in the liquor interest so how can one register a direct protest against beverage alcohol by voting either Republican or Democratic?"

"That's our reason for being. We're a protest party and it's always been a mystery to me how any Christian cannot be a prohibitionist and a hater of the abomination."

Amos Estes Becomes Member of Battalion

Miss Hurlbut wrote: "As you know we celebrated the 50th anniversary of the founding of the mission. Many changes have come in those 50 years. I have not seen all, but I know from 33 years of experience here, much progress has been made physically, mentally and spiritually."

She told of those early days when wattle and dob houses were about all that were found there, and most of the people wore cloths and some in the more distant parts even wore bark cloth. Now, she said, you see about as many adobe houses as wattle and dob, some even with tile roofs, and most people use the European style of dress.

In the early days, she wrote, the little two-handled hoe was all they used for cultivation and with this they raised enough corn and beans for food and a little to sell for cloth and other needs. The missions introduced plows in the work at the boarding schools, the pupils learned how to use them, and found out how much larger fields they could cultivate with them. So they began to buy one for the village, and as they raise more produce and earned more money they could each one have a plow. A few tractors have come into the country now, she said, and soon the African may be using that and cultivating even larger fields than at present.

Miss Hurlbut, who is in the educational field, wrote of the lack of education among the people there when she first went there, and how several young people now had gone to Portugal to study and complete high school work. One young man from her colony, she stated, is now in his third year of medicine in Lisbon. She explained how hard it was, because all their education is in a language not their mother tongue.

When she went there, Miss Hurlbut said, there were no ordained African pastors, the first were ordained in 1930. In 1940 Elende had only two African pastors and their pastorate extended 100 miles in all directions from the mission station. The only means of travel was on foot. Now they have ten pastors and hope next year to have two more. In 1948 she took five bicycles for the then five pastors, so they could visit their areas more easily. That was a great day for them, she said. Soon they may be getting little motors for them, for climbing up and down the mountainous roads is hard work, even on a wheel. In 1925 there were only two automobiles in the whole mission field, she said, and even missionaries traveled by hammock or on foot.

She told of the training of leadership and in putting the plans into action, the steady growth of all the pastoral areas, and in some areas that border on fields that have no mission work.

The luncheon was given by the Federated Guild, with Mrs. W. C. Housel, general chairman, presiding. The invocation was by the Rev. Leonard Reifel, pastor of the church, who also gave the benediction.

Mrs. A. H. Bratten sang "My Creed," with Miss Mabel DeWitt at the piano.

Mrs. Leonard Reifel gave the devotional, using two symbols, the candle for the light, and the Bible. The Rev. Ernest Waite, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Warrensburg, was the speaker and showed pictures of his trip to the Holy Land and other places. His first pictures were of the beautiful and colorful flowers of Holland. Here, he said, he found the most hospitable people of any country he visited. In the homes in Holland, he said, you always find one of two things and maybe both, flowers growing and featherbeds.

The people of Egypt, do not want pictures taken, and another minister previously taking the same trip was stoned as he stepped from a bus and attempted to take pictures. He would probably have been killed had not the bus driver pulled him back on the bus and started on. So Rev. Waite took no chances; he took his pictures from the bus.

The men don't work in Egypt, he said, the women do all the work. Women of America should be very grateful they live in this country. They are certainly considered very low and treated terribly in many other countries. The women in Egypt, when they marry, which is at about 13, he said, have their faces pock marked and wear veils.

He told of the begging that goes on in Egypt and how they all work together to get American money—not that "chicken feed," as one called it, but that folding green money. The speaker said he selected a camel, the biggest one. The man with the camels asked him where he was from and he replied Missouri. The man jumped up and down and said: "Missouri, that is the name of the camel."

They have prayer five times a day and the first call to prayer is when it is first light enough to distinguish a black thread from a white thread.

Rev. Waite told many interesting things as he showed the pictures of places spoken of in the Bible, which included the hill on which Jesus was crucified and the place of His burial. He told of the custodian of the burial place who at one time had been a bank or worth $250,000. The man, McTarr, lost his money and he and his family lived in poverty for a long time. McTarr then prayed that he might, though he felt there was little chance except by miracle that he would be chosen as the custodian. But the miracle happened and he was chosen.

The speaker said that it was a Capt. Gordon, in 1882, who, looking across to the hill where Christ was crucified, felt that he was also looking at where He was buried. Excavation proved that the tomb was there and that everything fit exactly the description in the Bible.

A short talk was also given by Mrs. A. W. Kokendoffer, who knew Mary Hurlbut when she was a little girl.

Guests were asked to stand, give their names and their churches. The guests were: Mrs. Dennis R. Raabe, Peggy and Gene, Mrs. A. H. Bratten, Mrs. Fred Brink, Mrs. Frank Gross, Mrs. George Bischof, Miss Kathryn Spangler, Mrs. Jimmy G. Daniels, Port Arthur, Tex.; Mrs. T. H. Yount, Mrs. E. F. Yancey, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Every Citizen Wants to Know: "WHAT WILL THE URBAN PLAN COST ME?"

FACT You get $10 for a $1 investment The State of Missouri has earmarked $2,200,000 in Federal and State Urban Highway Funds to be spent on Sedalia streets if our Urban Plan is approved. This is approximately 9 times as much as the maximum of $250,000 asked of Sedalia.

WHERE WILL THE MONEY COME FROM?

Federal & State $2,200,000

YOU GET YOUR MONEY BACK!

Federal and State Urban Highway Funds, which will be used to pay 9/10 the cost of Sedalia's Urban Plan, are raised by taxes on new automobiles, tires, and gasoline. Sedalia car owners have paid these Federal and State taxes for a long time. Approval of the Urban Plan makes it possible FOR THE FIRST TIME for you to get some of your money back, and have it spent on the streets of the city where you live.

City of Sedalia $250,000

THIS WILL NOT BE A BURDEN!

Our 1/10 share of the total cost will be met by 20-year municipal bonds. It is the considered opinion of the Mayor and Council that these bonds can be financed without raising the present tax rate, due to these facts:

- 1) In the past few years, Sedalia has shown a lively and healthy growth, which will result in sufficient tax revenue to partially meet the annual bond payments.
- 2) As a direct result of approval of the Urban Plan, we expect additional growth in the immediate future.
- 3) Regular scheduled retirement of the City's present bonded indebtedness and interest payments will provide still more funds. THESE 3 FACTORS MAKE AVAILABLE SUFFICIENT FUNDS TO FINANCE OUR SHARE OF THE URBAN PLAN.

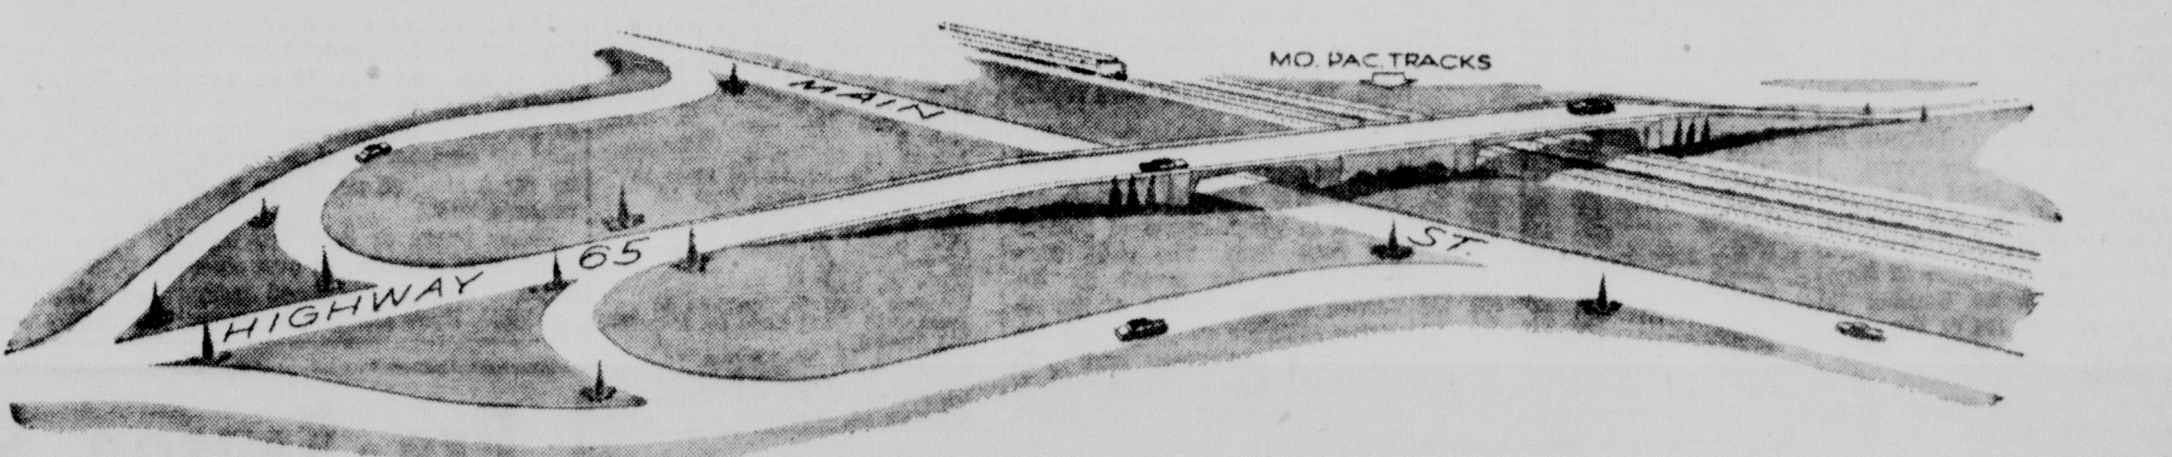

HERE IS THE BREAKDOWN:

FEDERAL or STATE PAYS FOR	CITY PAYS
1/2 the cost of new rights-of-way	1/2 the cost of new rights-of-way
All new bridges and viaducts	nothing
All grading and widening	nothing
All new pavement	nothing
All curb and gutter required	nothing
All sidewalks where specified	nothing
All replacement of disturbed curb & gutter	nothing
All replacement of disturbed sidewalks	nothing
All new storm sewers as required	nothing
All new sod in necessary landscaping	for new shrubs and trees in landscaping

HERE ARE 3 QUESTIONS MOST OFTEN ASKED —

- What Will Happen if We Do Not Take Advantage of the Urban Plan?
FACT In this case, the $2,200,000 now earmarked for Sedalia will be spent in other cities of the State, which approve their Urban Plans.
- Why Can't We Wait and Let Uncle Sam Do the Whole Job Under the New Federal Interstate Highway Law?
FACT This new law does not apply within our city limits. The Urban Plan is still the only way to obtain substantial Federal and State Highway Funds to improve our City streets.
- Why Not Route Highway 50 AROUND SEDALIA?
FACT According to the State Engineers who made the survey for the Urban Plan, ONLY 18% of the traffic using our sections of Highways 50 and 65 is "through traffic." This is not enough, now and for a long time to come, to justify the tremendous construction cost to the Federal and State Governments of a new Highway 50 By-Pass.

If through traffic volume ever justifies the cost to them of a Highway 50 By-Pass, we will keep our improved and beautified Urban Plan streets as a permanent asset, and the State will continue to maintain them.

The Urban Highway Plan for Sedalia is important to every man, woman, and child in our City. Every voter should share in the decision. Ballots for the Urban Plan Proposition will be distributed in all Sedalia city precincts, at the General Election, Tuesday, November 6, from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Tigers Fall Before Jays Assault, 26-0

Jeff Crumbles S-C in Final Period of Tiger Homecoming

Jefferson City put the clincher on the 1956 title of the Central Missouri Conference for football Friday night when they trounced upon the Smith-Cotton Tigers to the tune of 26-0. Actually the score doesn't speak for the type of game that was played—it was excellent battling the first three quarters, but the last stanza was definitely the Jays.

Smith-Cotton lost the toss and the Jays elected to receive. The visitors started off with a bang of a drive from their 19 on down to Sedalia's 11 on two first downs, or a distance of 70 yards. Melvin West made the first bobble, on the 11-yard strip and the Tigers recovered and started back with it. They exchanged the ball twice.

With less than 30 seconds to go in the quarter with the ball on the Tigers' 45-yard line, Bob Bryant, flashy right halfback of the Jays, started to run, stopped and threw the Tigers into confusion, started up again and went to pay dirt. Melvin West made his kick good and the quarter ended 7-0.

The second quarter was scoreless, but not without excitement. The Tigers had received the kickoff on their 32-yard line, picked up 13 yards and a first down with 19 seconds left in the first quarter. Opening the second stanza they finally punted. A break came after the Jays had taken over on their own 19 and moved to the 29 where Don Webb fumbled and the Tigers recovered, only to lose it on downs after gaining five yards and losing one.

On the first play excitement rang through the stadium when Alan Green broke away for 45 yards only to be stopped by Charles Newman on the 37-yard line. The visitors moved it on down to the 13-yard line to lose it on downs. The Tigers moved it to the 23-yard line, then were penalized 15 yards, and were forced to kick. Bryant missed the punt and it hit him and a Tiger pounced upon it for a recovery. It was on the Jays' 35. Four straight passes were attempted, all bad and incomplete. The Jays controlled the ball until the half ended.

In the third quarter the ball was switched back and forth but was never out of Tiger territory. The Jays saw to that, even when they gave the Tigers breaks on fumbles. Nothing sensational occurred in that stanza other than Sedalia holding its and keeping the Jays from scoring.

In the fourth quarter the coal was tossed on the fire and the team began to rise. Opening the quarter the Jays had the ball on their own 40-yard line. Green picked up four yards, then Melvin West shook off the Tigers, got a step ahead of the Tigers' backfield and that was all. His heels threw dirt in the faces of the chasing Tigers for 56 yards and a touchdown. West kicked the point. Score Jays 14, Tigers 0.

The Sedalians took the kickoff on their 17 and moved to the 42-yard line where Goodrich fumbled, the Jays recovering. Bailey made 19 yards; Bailey-West 10 yards; Green four; West pass incomplete; Bailey 5; then West went 25 yards for the score, but he missed the kick this time.

After the Jays kicked off and the Tigers started on their own 28, Kasak picked up seven; the Tigers lost five yards on off sides; Garrison lost a yard, the punt was blocked and the Jays took over on the 15-yard line, 13 yards lost from the point where the Tigers took over.

Only 32 seconds left in the game. Gary Bailey on a lateral from Green shot around the right end of the line for the distance and score. A pass attempt for the extra point failed. Score Jays 26, Tigers 0.

At the time of the kickoff 21 seconds were left and the Tigers took over on their 25-yard line. Two seconds left and Garrison in the final play made five yards.

Next week the local fans will not have to sit by and see an anticipated slaughter. Raytown will be host to the Tigers in Raytown and they'll be wanting to even up some games of the past. Raytown has had some impressive victories this season, and they'll be after the Tigers scalp to keep up the record.

WAFB Cagers Have Bumper Crop of Vets

Maj. Frank Judd, Whiteman Air Force Base basketball coach, has been putting 30 base team hopefuls through their pre-season hoes for the past two weeks. Those working out include a good crop of veterans from last year's squad and a group of bright newcomers.

With many of the men ranging over the six-foot mark, the base five is expected to have good back-board strength.

Looking good so far in the practice sessions have been Airmen Vernon Moore, Operations Squadron, Cloyd Dodson, Headquarters Air Base Group, and Joe Louis, Supply, stalwarts of last year's quintet who wound up the season with respective averages of 24, 16.8, and 16.3.

Two men expected to help the base team during the forthcoming season are First Lieutenants Jack Anderson and John James of the 488th Bomb Squadron and Field Maintenance Squadron respectively. Anderson, standing two inches over six feet, is a veteran of inter-collegiate and service play, having played at Clemson, Annapolis, James Connally, AFB, Tex., and Shaw AFB, S.C., before coming to Whiteman.

Other men who have been practicing and who are expected to give the team a good assortment of shooting eyes, speed, and rebound advantage are Airmen Buddy Tarver, Supply Squadron, Paul Chandler, Transportation Squadron, and Lavern Coleman Jr., Headquarters Squadron Air Base Group.

The first contest this year for the base five will be against a professional girls' team from Arkansas on Nov. 14 on the home court in Whiteman's new $218,000 gymnasium. League play will get underway for the Whiteman team when they go against Smoky Hill AFB in two games on Nov. 16 and 17. These games will be the first of the year for the newly formed "Big 6" conference.

Tunisian Civilians Clash With French Convoys; One Killed

TUNIS, Oct. 27 (AP)—Tunisian civilians clashed at several points today with French military convoys trying to force their way through road blocks, according to reports reaching Tunis tonight.

One French soldier was killed and 11 were wounded in the clashes, French and Tunisian reports said. Three Tunisians were reported wounded.

The barricades were thrown up by Tunisians late Thursday following two days of anti-French rioting in which scores of persons lost their lives. The riots were sparked by the arrest by the French of five leaders of the Algerian rebellion as they were flying for a conference here with Morocco's Sultan Mohammed V and Tunisia's Premier Habib Bourguiba.

A general strike of sympathy with the two-year-old Algerian rebellion was ordered for tomorrow by the Arab League. In Amman,

Tigers Gain 100th Faurot Victory 34-0 To Remain in Race For Big Seven Title

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 27 (AP)—The University of Missouri Tigers presented Don Faurot with his 100th victory as a coach by blasting into five touchdowns in the second half to smother Iowa State 34-0 in a Big Seven football game today.

The victory, scored in bristling clear weather before 17,200, kept the Tigers in contention for the Big Seven Conference spot for the Orange Bowl. It was their second league success in as many games.

Five different Missouri backs scored a touchdown apiece as Faurot used his manpower freely against the outmanned Iowa State team.

After a scoreless first half in which each team threatened to the 10-yard line, Missouri broke the game open in the third quarter by striking for three touchdowns.

Fullback George Cramer ram-bled 32 yards behind mass block-ing for the first score. Hank Kuhl-mann, sophomore halfback, intercepted an Iowa State pass to put the Tigers in scoring position and a few plays later swept end for one yard and second score.

Reserve halfback Fred Henger got the third one from a yard out. Missouri's touchdowns in the fourth quarter were scored by quarterback Dave Doane on a short keeper play and by fullback Joe Wynn on a 35-yard sprint.

Charley Rash made two conversions and John Stout and Glen St. Pierre one each.

Except for Iowa state's approach to the 10-yard line early in the second period the Lowans were unable to offer a serious scoring threat.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

THE football season is drawing closer and closer to the end for 1956 and I expect there will be a lot of coaches glad to see this season come to an end. Basketball is already in the air, at the Whiteman AFB plenty of tryouts are getting underway, and the Consolidated High Schools in Central Missouri already have players practicing and ready for action.

After Friday night I expect the coaching staff will also be glad to get it over with. Not that they were too disappointed in the Tigers, but the fact the Jays came to life in the last quarter to run rough-shod over them was touchy.

The Tigers had all the breaks of the game, they had too the opportunity offered several times, but bogged down. Probably the jitters had them facing the Jay who had been picked early in the season as the Champions of 1956 in the CEMO and the team to beat.

In spite of their breaks and bobbles, the boys tightened down when the going got rough in the first three quarters and played hard to overcome the 7-point deficit but could do little about it. In the fourth stanza the Jays broke loose and put on the power and steam and went out to score three touchdowns, leaving the Tigers skinned.

Everybody figured the Jays to win, figured them to win by a large score, and were pleasantly surprised when the scoring was held down during the three quarters. It was a big disappointment when that fourth quarter rolled around. Yet they faced certain defeat without anybody laying down, and that is a credit to the locals.

With the winter program of basketball and volleyball coming upon us, The Democrat-Capital will be the hub for the furnishing of information on all the teams in this area. This the sports department will enjoy doing, but first it will take some cooperation.

I am requesting all coaches to drop us a line and give us their seasonal schedule as to both activities. Let us know what you will be doing and should you have an open date maybe some other coach can contact you and fill it.

We will appreciate receiving your games and will endeavor to give you publicity of which your players will merit.

James Electric Has 3051 Series--

Sedalia Team Sets Fast Pace In State Bowling Tournament

Dick Kaufman, Don Patton, Jim Sands, William Hall and Gerald Horst, representing James Electric, registered a strong 3051 pin series Saturday afternoon at Jefferson City in the opening round of annual Missouri State Bowling Association Championship Tournament. This score was good for 29th place in the 276-team tourney of 1955.

Kaufman and Horst led the team with identical 520 pin series, with Don Patton falling off that pace by only seven pins on a 513 series. Kaufman turned in games of 156, 182 and 182. Horst hit game scores of 164, 170 and 186, while Patton managed lines of 163, 170 and 180. Hall had a 479 series and Sands a 443.

The Fowler Insurance Agency team, composed of John Bowman, Vic Scott, Fran Tray, Perk Dieckhaus and Jack Vaughan, will make its tourney appearance at Jefferson City Sunday. Fowler's are the defending champions of the Sedalia Classic League, but are lodged in third place of the 1956-57 title chase. In official action at the Sedalia Bowling Lanes during the past week, Oscar Thoman, bowling for James Electric, scored the high single game, 247.

Vic Scott, bowling for Fowler's, recorded high series for the week on a 608-pin score. Scott had games of 194, 200, and 214 in his award winning series. In addition to this series, Scott rolled a 588 for Mullins Men's Wear in the Business Men's League.

Perk Dieckhaus bowled the second highest score and series, until Friday night his 225 was top score for the week for individual games, but Thoman found the range to grab the honor with a 247. Bowling for the Packing Room in the Town and Country League, Dieckhaus set a new loop mark with a 601 series. This series was good for runner-up spot on over all competition.

Other outstanding series during the week were: Bill Shockey, 572; Joe Long, 579; Louis Heuerman, 583; and Ed Cavanaugh, 578.

Season To Run Five Days--

63 Counties Will Open Fire On Whitetail Deer Tuesday

By George Suterley
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 27 (AP)—Missouri's gun season on White-tail deer opens Tuesday for a five day run in 63 counties.

The October-long archery hunting season on deer runs through Wednesday.

Only eight or nine thousand of the state's still growing herd of whitetails are expected to fall before the guns or arrows of Missouri sportsmen. Estimates of the deer population, admittedly conservative, now range up to 200,000.

Deer specialists for the state conservation commission called this a good year for Missouri's biggest game animal. There was plenty of browse and other factors were right, too.

Last year, one man died during the deer hunt, apparently the victim of his own gun. There were several injuries reported. For a $5 permit a Missourian, using a rifle or slug-loaded shotgun may try for a hundred pounds or so of winter's meat.

Either bucks or does are legal game in 54 counties. In nine other counties only fork-antlered bucks are legal. Daily shooting hours for the gunners are from 6:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Through the rest of their special season the archers can hunt from 5:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

The bow and arrow hunters do not have to check their kill at checking stations but the gun hunters must have their animals checked within 12 hours of the kill.

Bucks only counties are all north of the Missouri River. They are Clark, Daviess, Grundy, Howard, Lewis, Lincoln, Linn, Pike and St. Charles.

In these counties either bucks or does may be taken: Barry, Benton, Bollinger, Boone, Butler, Callaway, Camden, Carroll, Carter, Chariton, Christian, Cole, Cooper, Crawford, Dallas, Dent, Douglas, Franklin, Gasconade, Hickory, Howell, Iron, Jefferson, Johnson, LaGrange, Lawrence, Livingston, Madison, Maries, McDonald, Miller, Monticue, Montgomery, Morgan, Newton, Oregon, Osage, Ozark, Perry, Phelps, Pulaski, Reynolds, Ripley, St. Francois, Ste. Genevieve, the portion of St. Louis county west of State Highway 141 and south of U. S. 61, Shannon, Stone, Stoddard, Taney, Texas, Warren, Washington and Wayne.

Sooners Trample On Irish

Overpower Reeling Notre Dame, 40-0, For First Shutout Of Irish Since '51

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 27 (AP)—Oklahoma's dynamic Sooners struck with devastating first-half force today to rack up bewildered Notre Dame 40-0 and rout their first shutout since 1951.

In winning their 35th straight game, Oklahoma set a new modern collegiate record.

This nationally televised game unveiled a Sooner team which "unleashed down" its usual fast play-starting tactics, but still improved, with terrific speed and finesse, on Michigan State's 47-14 pasting of the Irish last Saturday.

The incredible skill of Oklahoma's run - pass attack and its relentless platoon pressure demoralized Notre Dame which had two passes intercepted for Sooner touchdowns.

Unquestionably, the Sooners — paced by halfback Clendon Thomas' two touchdowns — struck a solid blow in their bid to return to the No. 1 position in the Associated Press national poll.

Michigan State's Spartan's, currently the nation's No. 1 team, were upset by Illinois, 20-13, to day. Michigan State was held to a 7-7 halftime tie by Notre Dame which trailed 26-0 at halftime.

A Notre Dame record crowd of 60,128 saw the Irish blanked by a Sooner attack which ignored unimpressive game statistics while they poked across six touchdowns, four coming in the first half.

Thomas, who teamed with half-back Tommy McDonald for 121 rushing yards on 23 carries, scored once on an 11-yard run and again on a 36-yard saunter with an interception of a Paul Hornung pass.

End John Bell, one of the five Sooners who scored touchdowns, started Oklahoma's victory drive by snagging a 14-yard pass from Jim Harris, a brilliant quarterback.

Second string quarterback Jay O'Neal scored the second touchdown, still in the first quarter on a 1-yard plunge McDonald made it 26-0 by intercepting a pass by Notre Dame's Jim Morse and streaking 55 yards for a touchdown.

Harris sneaked over from the 1- yard line for a third quarter touchdown. That put Oklahoma ahead 33-0 and Thomas made it 40-0 with his second touchdown on his Hornung interception in the fourth quarter.

Notre Dame's deepest penetration was to the Oklahoma 2 in the second period where the Irish were forced to yield on downs.

Oklahoma rushed to 147 yards and had 8

Eric Hass Is Socialist Candidate

NEW YORK (AP) — Campaigning across the country for the presidency is a man whose slogan is "capitalism is no bargain."

Eric Hass, 51, is nominee of the Socialist Labor party—a small but seemingly perennial institution of American politics.

It has put up a presidential candidate in the last 17 consecutive elections—a record it says no other minority party can match.

Under the banner of the "Arm and Hammer," it professes to be the original American party of socialism.

It stresses that it "has no affiliation or association with the so-called Socialist party, Communist party, nor with any other party or group in this country or abroad."

The Socialist Labor party is one of the few minority parties able to find funds to wage a campaign. The Socialist Laborites started their campaign with $47,000. Delegates to the party's convention in New York last May 5 turned in that amount, donated by workers in their districts.

The party has since received many additional contributions.

It has been enough to buy a full page advertisement in the New York Times, to purchase television time, and to enable Hass to make a cross-country campaign tour.

In the 1952 election, with Hass as the candidate, the party got 30,376 votes in 23 states.

Among the minority parties, it was beaten out only by the Progressives and the Prohibitionists. Its biggest vote was 9,363 in Illinois. The smallest was 1 in Arkansas.

This year it is on the ballot in 14 states—Colorado, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Washington and Wisconsin.

It is waging write-in campaigns in California, Michigan, New York, Ohio and Oregon.

Hass, editor of the party's "Weekly People," has graying blond hair and an athletic build. He is 5 feet 9 and weighs about 170.

The presidential candidate was born in Lincoln, Neb., of German and Danish immigrant parents, attended the University of Nebraska and worked at various jobs before becoming active in the party. He is married and lives in New York City.

The Socialist Labor party vice presidential candidate is Mrs. Georgia Cozzini, 41, a housewife.

She was born in Springfield, Mo., and was married in 1935 to Artemio Cozzini of Milwaukee, a knife-grinder by trade. They have two children, Bruce, 19, a student at the University of Wisconsin, and Gina, 10.

The Socialist Labor party puts it this way:

Capitalism means "war, poverty in the midst of plenty, unemployment, the doom of the small farmer, wage slavery, democracy subverted, and social disintegration."

But, they say, socialism means "peace, plenty for all, security, solution of the farm problem, abolition of the wages system, industrial democracy, and a better world for all."

Special Group Shapes Proposals To AAU on Santee

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—A special committee, appointed as a result of the furor over the banning of star miler Wes Santee from amateur competition, will make its recommendations to the Amateur Athletic Union at that organization's 69th annual convention in Los Angeles, Oct. 30-Nov. 2.

The committee has offered legislative changes which would clarify the powers and jurisdiction of the national AAU board of governors and executive committee and other which would allow athletes to receive more expense money than they now may accept.

Santee, regarded as America's No. 1 miler, was banned for life by the AAU last February for accepting excessive expense money for meets the previous spring. He challenged the authority of the executive committee to impose such a suspension and carried the fight into court, meanwhile running in several winter meets under the protection of an injunction. The New York State Supreme Court eventually upheld the suspension.

The legislation proposed by the special committee also would give the AAU tighter control over meet sponsors in reporting the expenses paid to athletes. One objection to the AAU handling of the Santee case was that while he was punished for accepting excessive expenses, the promoters who paid them got off scott free.

Unbeaten CMSC Upset by Rolla, 29-27, Saturday

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Oct. 27 (AP)—Bob Cross scored two touchdowns and three points after touchdowns today to lead the Rolla School of Mines to a 29-27 football victory over Central Missouri State College.

The Miner's victory ended Central's five-game win streak. Both teams now have a 2-1 record in the Missouri College Athletic Union.

CMSC touchdowns were scored by Gene Augustine and Tom Aubrey.

Rolla touchdowns were chalked up by Don Roth, Bob Helm, Perry Allison and Roy Parker, with Don Rockwell good for three conversions.

A fumble by Central with less than two minutes to go in the last quarter ended the team's chances. Rolla recovered and stuck to ground plays until the clock ran out.

A homecoming crowd of 6,000 saw the game.

State Jaycee Board Adopts Resolution On River Pollution

KENNETT, Mo., (AP) — The fall board meeting of the Missouri Junior Chamber of Commerce today approved a resolution urging the legislature to pass a law to halt pollution of Missouri streams and rivers by sewage and industrial waste.

The board in other actions: Awarded the state junior golf tournament to Excelsior Springs Jaycee chapter. This is scheduled for June.

Awarded the state Teen-age Road-race to Parkville. This is a driving contest for youngsters and will be held next spring.

Established a state swimming contest for children. No site or date was set.

John Hoelscher of Washington was chosen vice president to represent District Nine of the organization.

There was only one flaw in the election. It had not been given the required number of legal publications prior to the day of voting, so to be absolutely safe the City Council is again asking the voters for their approval.

The issues and the amounts are identical in this second election as they were in the first.

DISNEYLAND VISITORS —

Everett and Ruth Kemp, and Anna Rose Harlan, Dorothy Wagner, David Kemp, Dixie Kemp and Judy Harlan of Sedalia, shown above, were among the many recent visitors to Disneyland who enjoyed "rides" on TWA's Rocketship to the Moon. The 40-foot structure, which is the theme of the Tomorrowland section of Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom in California, simulates a 12-minute "trip" to the moon by Rocketship as scientists predict it will be made in 1955.

Technical Representative--

Al Wuelfing Tells About Flight in B-47 Bomber and the Necessary Preparations

ALL ABOARD—Al Wuelfing, Western Electric Co., boards a 340th Bomb Wing B-47 at Whiteman Air Force Base to observe his company's radar equipment in flight. (WAFB photo)

(Ed. Note — Mr. Wuelfing, employed by the Western Electric Co. and who lives at 2213 West Fifth, Sedalia, is best known in Sedalia for his part in setting up the new high fidelity music system for the Sedalia public library which was presented by the Kiwanis Club. In this article he gives an insight into the technical considerations and scientific progress of Stratojet flight.)

By Al Wuelfing

Recently, I flew a B-47 mission with an Eighth Air Force 340th Bombardment Wing aircraft equipped with my company's radar, to observe the reliability of the equipment and the crew's problems.

The opportunities for technical representatives like myself to observe a combat crew in action are the exception rather than the rule and add new dimensions of appreciation for the crew's problems that would benefit all tech reps and the Air Force.

Once that escape hatch is closed the crew of three becomes a unit of one. All needles on sensitive indicators appear to be working at the same time giving testimony of the vital functions of motors, generators, power sources, pressure equipment, and so on. The hundreds of products of industries associated with this aircraft have no other importance than how well it is integrated to the whole problem of flight and its mission.

The fourth man is nothing more than a parasite during a flight no matter how much he may contribute during ground operation. He can never fully comprehend the many problems that can face a crew until he has witnessed first hand all the procedures and techniques, then ask him himself what he would do under any given circumstance. This free rider has to be fitted with a high altitude parachute, he has to go through all safety instructions and procedures such as how to use oxygen in an altitude chamber, fitted oxygen mask and helmet and numerous other details such as how to open the escape hatch, jettison the ladder, open the canopy, and so on.

After all that, he is strapped into a seating location that seems no larger than the size of a postage stamp. An intercom is available where he can listen in on all that is going on. The check lists are read off sometime by the pilot to co-pilot, then reverse, then co-pilot to observer. It seems an endless chain of activity until the aircraft finally gets under way with all six engines going full power. Soon one observes the full sweeps of the scanning trace over the radar scope and he knows that the observer is busy mapping out the course which had been planned. High over his shoulder he sees the blue sky, the only reminder of the outside world.

The temperature outside is minus 30 degrees while the cabin temperature is a normal 65. The cabin pressure is about equal to the height of a mountain while the outside oxygen density would give a man only seconds to live unless he breathed his oxygen from a life-giving bottle. The minutes pass into hours as the crew performs its function with a precision that reflects their training and experience. Reading of check lists goes on and on to reduce human error.

It is comforting that there are still men near you in this vast unreality of a machine in space. Later he is permitted to come up crew until he has witnessed first hand all the procedures and techniques, then ask him himself what the oxygen mask fitted with the intercom connection.

Although one has worked with a 10-inch scope for months past and is familiar with how and why it works, it now seems as if one has seen it for the first time. Information is revealed with a constantly changing pattern and unerring precision that is impossible to duplicate on ground operation. Unfortunately it also includes undesirable features, as well as the limitations of the whole system.

Our work done, we headed for home. More check list procedures droned through the intercom as we made our penetration.

After considerable time we suddenly found ourselves over the runway—a few light blurs and we were on the ground. Still more check lists to follow until someone opened the escape hatch from the outside and we climbed down the ladder.

Soon this writer found himself riding home in his familiar car still very thoughtful and more mindful of this high flying with Strategic Air Command and its many "ifs." He was well satisfied, but also had new ideas of his own share of responsibility to make things easier and more effective for the observer and crew.

If any tech rep should ever feel that he doesn't have a share in the improvement of radar presentation, he should make such a flight and start digging with new insights and dedication to serve and aid his wing to a far higher degree than he thought himself capable. Preventive care and skilled maintenance practices are still the key to the whole problem.

UF Officials Expect WAFB To Reach Top

According to United Fund officials for the Whiteman Air Force Base second annual consolidated charity drive starting Nov. 1 and ending Dec. 1, said this week "If all personnel donate the suggested contribution of a day's pay during the forthcoming drive, we will definitely top this base's first drive total of $18,140."

Because the Air Force Aid Society for fiscal year 1957 has already been conducted, the United Fund drive will be the last such charity drive authorized at Whiteman until the next fiscal year.

A large sign, located in front of Wing Headquarters will indicate the progress of each squad towards their respective goals throughout the one-month campaign.

The entire fund, less 10 per cent for contingencies, will be distributed to the local charities of Sedalia, Warrensburg, Windsor, Knob Noster, LaMonte as well as the Red Cross, Cerebral Palsy, Heart Association, Muscular Dystrophy, Salvation Army and the Cancer Society. The contingency fund will be used for Whiteman's contributions to national charity agencies in time of disasters and other emergency relief.

Provisions have been made for persons wishing to divide their contribution over two or more of the four pay days occurring close to or during the four week drive. The membership card will be each person's receipt and proof that he or she has contributed the suggested individual amount to the drive.

Organize a 4-H Club in Your Community

If your community does not have a 4-H club, why not consider organizing one? This not only applies to the rural areas but to the urban area as well. If there is a group of boys and girls between the age of ten to 21 years old and are interested in woodwork, dairy, livestock, vegetables, clothing, foods, home furnishing, home grounds, or any of the other 74 4-H projects, you are well on your way in organizing a 4-H club. But before organizing a 4-H club local leaders will need to be selected, the parents will have to be interested enough to give their boy or girl encouragement from home to finish the 4-H work they start and the community needs to be in back of the newly organized club.

The most successful 4-H members have the interest and support of their parents. Some of the ways parents can help a 4-H club is as follows: (1) learn what 4-H is about, its purposes and objectives, the work required of the members, (2) attend club functions, (3) serve as a leader or lend a hand whenever needed, (4) help your child select a project that he will like, that he will have the ability to do, and one for which you can furnish facilities and materials, (5) give encouragement and guidance in projects but place full responsibility for actual work on your boy or girl, (6) see that he or she has a way to go to community and project meetings, (7) give your child an opportunity to participate in local and county activities such as Achievement Days, 4-H camp, and 4-H Sunday, (8)

No Frame in Structure—

New Type Building Is Used for Schien Truck Lines Terminal in Kansas City

New Schien truck terminal in Kansas City

A new freight terminal of a new type of construction was put into service in Kansas City a week ago by Schien Truck Lines at 3235 Nicholson Avenue. The former terminal was at 819 West 25th Street. Schien Truck Lines as an over-the-road freight transport system began operation in 1929. It operates largely in Missouri with headquarters at Sedalia and terminals in St. Louis, Jefferson City, Warrensburg and Springfield, in addition to Kansas City.

The new building is an adaptation of the frameless metal design of the Behlen Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Neb., represented in Kansas City by the Drue Misdine Co. It is constructed of aluminum steel panels with a front section of brick and concrete blocks.

The J. D. Wood Construction Co., Inc., Kansas City, erected the structure for the Schien Lines, which is occupying the building on a lease-back arrangement.

Special dock and door features for convenience in parking trans-ports and handling freight are incorporated in the structure from suggestions by William A. Schien, Sedalia, president of the truck lines. The project including grounds and building cost approximately $125,000, he said.

The structure measures 60 ft. by 121 ft. with a 12-foot sidewalk and a 6-foot canopy on each side. The terminal area is four times the floor space which Schien formerly operated in here, and there is greatly increased area for maneuvering and parking trucks, according to E. W. McNaughton, Kansas City terminal manager.

The working area is entirely clear span due to the frameless metal construction, and thus permits fast and efficient handling of freight in and out of the terminal, McNaughton pointed out. The corrugated metal panels from which the Behlen design describes its strength are evident in the roof and rear wall of the building. A series of nine 8 by 10 ft. doorways with overhead doors are located on each side of the building, and two roll-up steel doors at the rear measure 10 by 12 feet.

A concrete dock on one side is 8 inches below the terminal floor level and extends four feet from the building, thus permitting transport doors to swing freely after backing into the dock. Loading and unloading are handled across adjustable skids which make the truck floor and the terminal floor continuous.

The front portion of the building measuring 60 by 20 feet is of brick and concrete block construction with office space on two floors. A general office, sales office, reception area and dispatchers booth are located on the upper level, with utility room, drivers lounge, furnace and air conditioning rooms on the lower level.

Kansas Citian To Be Speaker At Sorosis Club

Mrs. Ida Lee Maier, secretary to the City Council, Kansas City, Mo., and for 25 years secretary to the mayor of Kansas City, will have an interesting story to tell members of Sorosis Monday afternoon about her job of "being in between," acting as a liaison between Kansas Citians and their city government.

Mrs. Maier was born in Benton County on a farm, where she says, "We were not curious about our neighbors, we were interested in them" and this is the policy she has carried on through life. She moved to Kansas City when she was 11 years old, and at that time she was Ida Lee Oakes. Her first job was in the want ad department of the Kansas City Star.

It was in 1926 that she won a position in the City Hall by way of the mayor's Christmas tree. A friend, who then was secretary to Mayor Beach, asked Mrs. Maier to assist with the mayor's Christmas tree, within a few years she was giving secretarial help and became a full time secretary in 1939. She has stayed on regardless of political changes and has worked for three mayors, Mayor Gage, W. E. Kemp and H. Roe Bartle, because she has the ability to know how to take care of the problems of the people and has a real interest in them.

Newspaper reporters, who are among Mrs. Maier's greatest admirers, respect her ability and clean record and have managed to tell her story at the right moment, in the right place and to the right people. And so Mrs. Maier remains in the mayor's office, taking care of the needs of the citizens and to many she has become "Mrs. Kansas City."

Mrs. Maier will be introduced by Mrs. W. B. Rich, art and drama chairman. There will be a luncheon honoring Mrs. Maier.

Annual short story, poetry, photography and song contests are held, and occasional guest speakers appear. The social side of the program includes outings, teas, formal and informal dinners and dances.

Installation will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, in the Magnolia Room, Bothwell Hotel.

Michigan's name means "great water" and is derived from an Indian word variously spelled Mishigamaw, Micigama and Michigama.

Benjamin Franklin helped establish the Canadian postal system.

Knitwear Goes Everywhere These Days

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK —(NEA)—Knitwear goes everywhere these days. It's on hand for after-five affairs, appears at dinner and goes to the theater.

It's a good traveler, of course, and always has been. But these days, with this difference: it comes in such light, fine, smooth woens that it takes up next to no room in a suitcase and can shift from one climate to another with ease. It's comfortable whether the temperature is 50 degrees or 85.

It won't sit out and it will take to accessories. It can be had in suits and dresses and ensembles and wonderful, lightweight coats that are ideal for day-into-evening. We show here (left) the wool-knit coat dress in a flecked oatmeal tweed with bone buttons from neckline to hem. Sheath dress (right) in fine knitted wool is worn with little cardigan that's cropped at the waistline. We show it in gray and white. Both designs are by Gertrude Goldworm.

Low Heels Get High Grade in College

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

If you haven't completed the shoe wardrobe you'll use in college, here are some good pointers. Chief among them is the fact that success isn't so much a matter of buying the latest in style as it is being sure that you have a pair or two for each activity.

The average schoolgirl will own 14 pairs of leather shoes this fall. Eight will be new this year.

In your own case, perhaps many of your last year's shoes will do. But check over and see. Get the holdover pairs repaired and cleaned up.

First come flats. There should be dressy, tailored and casual items in the wardrobe.

Flats are vital at school since many dates are shorter or on a level height.

Flats also are safe for geology field trips and tip-toeing into class late.

For wear with shorts, knee pants and sports skirts, the loafer of past years has undergone a radical change. It has leather soles, monk straps and brass buckles. Styles are very dandified, but perfect for wear with knee socks.

For wear with tailored bulky woens and the very popular tweed and leather suits, a more plushy look is in order. Reversed calf in fall shades — sienna, persimmon, chestnut, beige, camel and loden green — appears for this kind of wear.

Dressy flats have lots of trim. They come in two colors, with straps, buttons and buckles. A long day in town will call for a pair

Policeman Gets Mansion Rent Free on His Beat

PHILADELPHIA — A $75-a-week Park policeman has moved into a 14-room mansion overlooking the Schuylkill River which he gets rent free.

William P. O'Toole, Fairmount Park guard, his wife Doris and their two-year-old daughter moved from a second-floor apartment in a South Philadelphia row house.

The 100-year-old mansion is owned by the Park Commission which allows its employees to have certain park residences rent free. O'Toole's name was at the top of the applicant list when "Lemon Hill" was added to the occupancy rolls.

Originally Robert Morris, famous financier of the Revolutionary War, occupied a 300-acre estate on Lemon Hill. After Morris' imprisonment for debt, the estate was sold in 1799 to Henry Pratt who built the present mansion.

In 1845 the land was taken over by the city and made a public park. For almost 90 years Lemon Hill was the residence of Fiske Kimball, director of the Philadelphia art museum. After his death the mansion became vacant last year.

The Park Commission thought for a time of converting the home into an official residence for Philadelphia mayors. When it was found remodeling would cost $100,000, this project was deferred if not dropped.

The O'Tooles don't get the entire mansion, just the first floor which includes the living room, two bedrooms, kitchen, bath and laundry. They must maintain their quarters and be prepared to move if the commission decides to make other use of the mansion.

The six-foot-four O'Toole can walk out his front door, admire the view and be at work. His beat includes Lemon Hill.

Mrs. Melvin Foster

Miss Ann Turner Pledges Vows With Mr. Foster

Miss Margie Ann Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clifton Turner, Knob Noster, and Melvin Bernard Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Butler Foster, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at seven o'clock the evening of October 20 at the First Christian Church in Knob Noster with the Rev. Luther Villars officiating before a setting of baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums with a background of huckleberry foliage and four seven branch candelabra.

Mrs. Merel Matthews, Knob Noster, played a program of wedding music and the traditional wedding marches on the organ and accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Butler Foster, who sang "Always" and "Because."

Jimmie Turner, brother of the bride, and Robert Dawes lighted the tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a frost white gown of French imported Chantilly lace and gossamer tulle over wedding ring satin, styled with a smooth fitting bodice with scooped neckline. Long lace sleeves tapered to traditional points over the hands. The very bouffant skirt featured alternating tiers of lace and tulle on each side with a wide panel of lace down the back, coming to a V over a ruffled tulle chapel train. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. The bride carried a bouquet of stephanotis with white satin bow and streamers, centered with a single white orchid. She also carried a white linen handkerchief which belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Rosa Davis. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones.

Miss Sue Richeson was maid of honor, with Miss Wilma Lyle and Miss Jean Logan as bridesmaids. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical dresses of iridescent gold taffeta, which were ballerina length. They also had matching hats of taffeta and net and carried bouquets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, with solid satin bows and streamers. The bride's headpiece was designed and made by the maid of honor, Miss Sue Richeson, who also styled the attendants' hair.

Foster McGuire, Lincoln, Neb., served his cousin as best man. Ushers were Jimmie Turner, Robert Daws and Lloyd Franklin. Little Miss Connie Triplett, cousin of the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Triplett, Kansas City, wearing a long white ruffled dress of taffeta and net, was flower girl. A four-tiered wedding cake, topped with white wedding bells and lilies of the valley and love birds with wedding rings, centered the bride's table which was covered with a linen cloth. White tapers in crystal holders were placed on either side and a bouquet of white snapdragons and chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl enhanced the table. Serving at the table were Mrs. George Stump, Warrensburg, Mrs. Robert Murphy, Chilhowee, Mrs. Elmo Triplett, Kansas City, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Byron Lane, Knob Noster, cousin of the bridegroom. A rhinestone necklace, gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry. She carried a white satin covered Bible with white satin streamers, carnations and red rose buds.

Provides Annual Sessions--

Amendment Backers Include Legislators, Labor and PTA

JEFFERSON CITY (MPA) — A recent survey has shown that the lineup of backers for constitutional amendment one includes legislators, labor and school lobbies and a mysterious citizens committee.

State legislators, with a few exceptions, are reported campaigning strongly for the amendment which would permit lawmakers to set their own salaries. The present limits on legislative salaries are $1,500 a year plus $10 a day expenses while in session.

Taking a very active part in supporting the amendment is the Citizens Committee for Amendment 1. The organization so far has mailed out thousands of pamphlets and other literature to legislators and other groups campaigning for the amendment.

George Rozier, Jefferson City attorney and executive secretary for the state wholesale liquor dealers, is listed as chairman of the committee. He has not been available for questions concerning the membership and financial backing of his committee.

Jim Davis, executive secretary of the state AFL-CIO, admits that labor locals are working hard for the amendment. However, he denies that labor is financing Rozier's committee.

The state teachers association and the parent teachers organizations are also supporting the amendment which would make sweeping changes in the legislative branch. It was believed that the school groups would use school children to deliver literature for the amendment to their parents.

The school and labor lobbies have been miffed over vetoes since Gov. Phil M. Donnelly vetoed a school appropriation in 1953 and several labor bills in 1955. Amendment One would provide for extra sessions of the legislature to consider such vetoes if they occur after a session or in its last 15 days.

Opposing the amendment are the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey, a private taxpayers group, five former governors of the state and many Missouri newspapers.

The opponents charge that the veto session would be needless and expensive since many bills are vetoed because of technical errors. Opponents also oppose annual legislative sessions as provided in the amendment, pointing out the increased costs and extra time which legislators would have to spend in the capital city.

Police Say Union Leader Was Murdered

BABYLON, N.Y. (AP)—Police say a union official, at first believed to have died of natural causes, was murdered.

Edward J. Murtha, 52, business agent of the Suffolk Council of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, was found dead yesterday in his office. A police official said it was assumed death resulted from natural causes.

Later, an autopsy verified the report of an undertaker that Murtha had three bullet wounds in the head.

Authorities said Murtha's union was not involved in any current labor difficulties and thus far they have been unable to uncover a motive for the slaying. Murtha's body was found by a union employee.

New Television Schedules

Today the Democrat-Capital begins its new style of presenting the television schedules. Instead of listing the programs by stations, the programs will now be listed by the day and the hour. The channel numbers are placed in parentheses. We feel this will be an easier method for our subscribers to use in selecting their programs and will be handier for them to clip out and save because the new system is less bulky. Because of the time involved in getting the new system set up and because many of the times and programs are being changed this week with the end of daylight saving time, we are publishing the schedules for Sunday through Wednesday today, and the remaining schedules will be published Wednesday. Thereafter, all schedules will be published on Sunday, as in the past.

The explosive story of a pretty teacher... the boy who grew up too fast... and "The Unguarded Moment" that rocked a town with its shocking aftermath, provides Esther Williams with her first dramatic role. George Nader and younger newcomer John Saxon are also featured in "The Unguarded Moment" which starts today at the Fox Theatre. The motion picture is in Technicolor.

Amendments No. 1, 2 and 3

Controversial Amendment No. 1 was endorsed in planks of both political parties. Since that time a storm of protest has been raised throughout the state especially by former governors and many leading citizens opposed to it.

This amendment to the State Constitution would permit Missouri legislators to set the pay of its members and grant themselves additional traveling expense. At present they get $1,500 per year and in addition $10 per day for each day they answer roll call, also paid mileage for one trip to Jefferson City.

Most controversial section of the amendment, however, is the provision calling for sessions each year and one, designated as the veto session, following a regular term, in order to allow the legislature to consider last minute vetoes by the governor.

Annual sessions of the legislature would only aggravate rather than improve the state's fiscal problems. Major provisions of this amendment have serious defects and the purposes for which it is intended for better fiscal planning, increased compensation and an opportunity for the consideration of vetoes should be given further study in an effort to seek sound solutions.

Amendment No. 1 as submitted deprives the voter of a liberty of choice by combining four major provisions in a single measure so that the voter cannot choose among them. He must vote for or against all of them or not at all.

This leaves Amendment No. 1, suspect and of doubtful validity. If passed it faces a challenge of constitutionality.

This amendment should be defeated.

Farmer Candidates and Friendly Foes

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Both President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Adlai Stevenson are "farmers"—meaning that they own farms on which they have country homes. But neither the Gettysburg, Pa. nor the Libertyville, Ill., establishments could qualify as a demonstration farm to show professional farmers how to operate and make a profit. Both farming operations are run by manager tenants, and upkeep costs are high.

Ike bought his original 189-acre parcel for around $120 an acre. Land values in the area immediately soared to over $500 an acre, not because it became better farm land, but for its social and prestige value.

The President doesn't try to operate a commercial farm. Grain and forage crops are not sold, but used to feed his own livestock. He is still building up his herd.

Stevenson's 240 acres were first acquired by his grandfather Adlai Stevenson. The farm is now owned jointly by Stevenson and his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives. It was allowed to run down for some years and is now valued at around $300 an acre in a district where good farm land goes for $650 an acre.

This year Stevenson's tenant, Earl Shives, had about 200 acres in corn, oats, soybeans and hay, with 15 acres in the soil bank. Yields are good, and the farm will show a profit.

Four years ago Stevenson revealed that from 1942 through 1951, his farm partnership paid him an average annual income of $2,400. If this is a one-fourth interest—one-half to his tenant and one-fourth to his sister—the farm grossed $9,600 on the average. Expenses weren't listed.

Political observation overheard in a group watching ex-Gov. Tom Dewey of New York on television: "Well, at last he's beginning to act grown-up. He doesn't look so much like the man on the wedding cake, anymore."

Sam Brightman and Dick Guylay, publicity chiefs for, respectively, the Democratic and Republican national committee headquarters, belong to the same country club near Washington. Personally and privately they're good friends, though professionally they let on they'd like to cut each other's throat.

Every once in a while they meet at their club, take off their uniforms—meaning their Adlai and Estes, Ike and Dick buttons—and compare notes on their troubles.

Guest Editorial--

EL PASO (Tex.) HERALD-POST: What Is Parity? When politicians appeal to the farmer for his vote, they talk a great deal about "parity" or percentage of parity. Most farmers understand what they mean, but city people sometimes don't.

It roughly means this: If a bushel of wheat would buy a shirt in 1914, and it would buy the same shirt now, you have 100 per cent parity for wheat.

The intent of government price support is to assure the farmer a price for his crops that will give him a purchasing power approaching that which the same crops would have given him in the years 1910-14. In that period farmers were better off financially, in relation to the rest of the country, than at any other peace period in modern times.

The government will take the farmer's crop at the support price if he can't sell it on the market for that much or more. The government stores it and sells it or gives it away later. It has $8 billion invested in such stored crops at the moment.

This year supports are near 90 per cent of parity on some commodities, ranging towards 60 on others. The Democrats advocate a return to the wartime rigid 90 per cent for basic crops. The Republicans want to continue the present "flexible" support program, the intent of which is to make supply conform more nearly with demand.

Also to be submitted to the voters November 6 will be two other amendments.

Amendment No. 2 would permit counties to raise the road and bridge tax from the present 35 cents on the $100 valuation to 50 cents.

The county road dollar does not go as far as it used to. In view of that fact, the present 35 cent limitation is not realistic. People living on sub-standard roads deserve help. They can get it through county assistance.

One important thing about Amendment No. 2 is that it permits, but does not compel, counties to levy the 50 cent maximum. If the people of the county want to vote more taxes for roads and bridges they should be permitted to do so under provisions of Amendment No. 2 which should be approved November 6.

There has been big hue and cry about the state losing money because it doesn't put surplus money out on interest. Under present law the state is prohibited from doing this; hence millions on deposit bring no interest.

Amendment No. 3 was designed to correct this situation in the face of universal demand for it. Estimates indicate the state will collect a million dollars in interest money annually if the amendment is approved and becomes law.

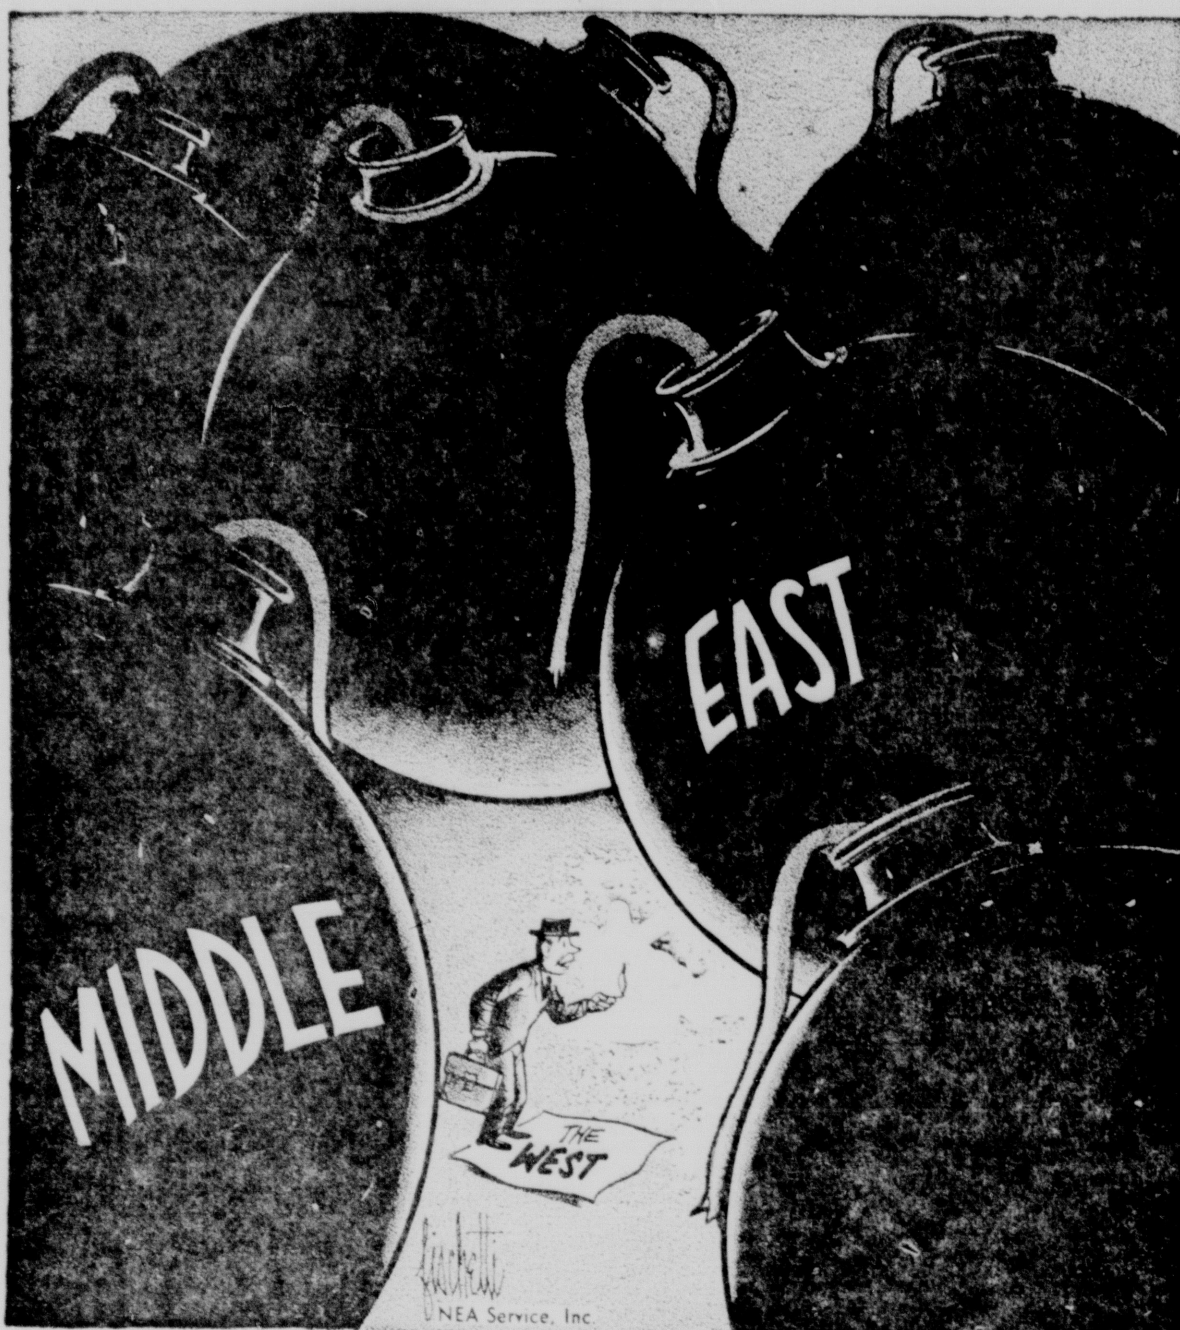

This amendment should receive a Yes vote November 6.

Now, if citizens are to vote circumspectly on the three amendments it will require some selectivity on their part.

There is considerable pressure to get Amendment No. 1 passed and those behind it expect to get their people to pay particular attention to voting for it. That being the case everybody should vote on these amendments, not toss them off as of no consequence, so that a representative vote will reveal fair determination of public opinion on all three amendments. Voter indifference could defeat two good amendments—No. 2 and No. 3—and approve one of doubtful benefit.

The thing to remember is: Vote "No" on Amendment No. 1 and "Yes" on Amendments 2 and 3.

How to Keep Wolf Away-- Small Business Spotlight On Both Political Parties

By Esther Van Wagoner Tutty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — What Small Business wants will be crystallized at a two-day convention in Cleveland, Ohio, neatly timed a week ahead of the November 6 election.

Aware that the election time publicity given to the mounting failures of small business has dramatized their crisis into a campaign issue, the National Small Business Men's Association is going to let everyone know precisely what will keep the wolf from the office door of their 15,000 members.

Spearheading proposals for the Cleveland "action" meeting is the determined Executive Director John C. Davis, who isn't a bit impressed by the "promises of either political party."

In an interview, this self-described "Taft-liberal" said President Eisenhower's "belated" offer of $600 million in tax relief to help the Small Businessman "didn't mean a thing." He added, "If the pushed thru some legislation when Congress was in session?"

As to the Democratic leadership, Mr. Davis called Senator John Sparkman's "fairly good" bill also "belatedly introduced" near the end of the Congressional session. The Alabama Democrat, who is chairman of the Select Senate Committee on Small Business, will be a speaker at the Cleveland October 28-29 meeting.

Long before T. Coleman Andrews, the presidential candidate of the reactionary National State's Right party, came out for abolition of income tax he was slated as a speaker to help the small businessman find some tax relief. He was formerly the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Many proposals may be made at Cleveland, but the two major recommendations will deal with "tax relief of some kind and secondary boycotting and other labor problems" predicts Davis. The convention Labor expert will be former Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

Davis doesn't expect or desire mild demands from NSBMA. For example, it is expected legislation will be asked "to carry mandatory criminal sentences upon conviction in cases involving injury to person or property occurring during labor disputes." It will be urged that "strikes be limited to employees of the company concerned and that anti-trust laws be extended to include labor unions."

The president of NSBMA is A. F. Mathews, president of the Consolidated Freight Co. of Saginaw, Mich., who may be able to clear up when Small Business becomes Big Business. Davis contends thousands in the National Association of Manufacturers belong more properly in the Small Business Organization. Is the number of employees or the size of production or profits the determining factor? That is the question.

Dr. Jordan Says--

Kidney Stones May Differ In Chemical Composition

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Mrs. B. asks for the latest information on kidney stones. She writes that she is almost 33, has four children and has had several operations for stones, but is "too scared to have this one."

I do not know exactly what Mrs. B. means by "this one." Perhaps what happened is that she has passed several kidney stones; more are present in the pelvis of the kidney, and the doctor feels that he will have to remove the kidney in order to prevent further difficulty. That, at least, is the only explanation I can think of which would account for Mrs. B.'s fear of the operation recommended to her.

It is impossible to advise about an operation when so little information is available. However, thousands of people are interested in knowing something about kidney stones.

These are, of course, not really "stones" at all, but are hard and often irregular deposits of chemical salts. They usually form in the kidney, but frequently pass down the urinary tract without pain or other symptoms. There are several varieties, sizes and shapes, but perhaps the most important consideration is the nature of the chemical of which they are composed. If a stone is made up of crystals of oxalic or phosphoric acid, for example, the urine is usually kept acid by diet. On the other hand, if the stone is made up of the less common uric acid, then the urine should be kept alkaline by diet. For these reasons, there is no single diet which is suitable for all people who suffer from kidney stones. Chemical analysis of a stone is essential.

Many possible causes for stone formations have been suggested, including chronic infection, deficiencies of certain vitamins, and slowing of the circulation in the kidney. The most likely explanation, however, is that there is some kind of disturbance in the excretion of certain salts which are ordinarily carried in liquid form in the urine. When stones are being formed these salts are precipitated as crystals out of the urine.

Once stones have developed, it is important to find out where they lie. This can be discovered by proper equipment and the use of the X-ray. It is frequently possible to aid in the passage of the stone by oiling or other measures. If the pain is severe (and it often is), pain-killing drugs, sometimes in large quantities, are indicated.

First Hallow'e'en

A sack almost as big as he.
A mask with holes through which to see,
A costume, red, with funny feet,
The baby's set for trick or treat;
Out in the darkness of the night
He goes with ghosts all dressed in white,
With hobbos, fairies, Mickey Mouse,
He wanders on from house to house;
Someone will answer a loud knock,
Pretend the goblins are a shock,
Invite them in quite often, too,
Then ask the baby: "Who are you?"
The baby's mask slips down a bit,
His funny hat just doesn't fit,
He has a time with those false feet,
And then he lisps: "twick or tweet?"
An apple or a popcorn ball,
He gets the biggest one of all,
A stick of candy, bubble gum,
An orange, or maybe a blue plum.
"What do you say?" a ghost will ask,
The baby smiles behind his mask,
"Thank you" he says and on they go;
The bag gets heavy, he gets slow,
His own front steps look mighty good,
When they have made the neighborhood,
Down goes his loot, off comes his hat,
He tries to pet his own black cat,
But kitty ran away to hide.
The minute that he came inside;
Off comes the mask, the costume too,
It was his bedtime baby knew;
The loot there in his bag would keep,
So down he sits and goes to sleep.

The Column In Controversy--

Pearson Says Eisenhower Had Relapse On Campaign

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It will be vigorously denied, but President Eisenhower apparently suffered a mild relapse on his western campaign trip. This is one reason for the head-to-toe examination this weekend. Such an examination had been promised, but it was made all the more necessary by the incidents of his west coast trip.

Whether it was campaign ex-

Hagerty Says:

WASHINGTON — Press Secretary James C. Hagerty today described as "the most amazing document of falsehood that I have ever seen" a report by columnist Drew Pearson that President Eisenhower suffered "a mild lapse on his Western campaign trip."

Pointing out what he called mis-statements, Hagerty said the first one was the report that Eisenhower had suffered a mild relapse and that it was the reason for the physical checkup for which the President entered Walter Reed Army Hospital here.

Hagerty said the checkup had been planned for months and Eisenhower himself announced it long ago at a news conference.

Hagerty gave No. 2 on his list to the statement that Eisenhower suddenly took off from his motorcade. At no time during a 38½ mile drive in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Hagerty said, did Eisenhower leave the motorcade.

No. 3, he said, was a statement that the President failed to shake hands with dignitaries. Actually, he said, Eisenhower shook hands with Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) Anchor Nelson, Republican candidate for governor of Minnesota, and Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) as well as "many others."

No. 4, Hagerty said, was a report that it was explained later that the Secret Service pulled the presidential car out of line in Minneapolis because it was too close to other cars.

No. 5 was a statement that when Eisenhower reached Seattle later that day, he closeted himself in his hotel suite and saw no one but his family and physician, while aides were working on a speech.

Hagerty listed various persons he said visited Eisenhower in his hotel suite and said that 45 minutes after Eisenhower's arrival at the hotel he went to the 12th floor and spoke briefly to 125 members of the state Republican finance committee. The following day, Eisenhower was working on speeches, Hagerty said, but he also had some visitors.

Pearson Replies:

WASHINGTON — Drew Pearson was out of town but responded to Hagerty with a statement through his office here which said: "My story was carefully checked, and I believe it to be true."

The columnist said Hagerty "has been operating an iron curtain on information for a long time" and added:

"His technique is to dent and clobber over the head any newspaperman who disagrees with him."

Pearson cited past cases in which he contended he has been right, despite White House denials, about Eisenhower's health.

"Mr. Hagerty on Aug. 4, 1953, categorically and emphatically denied a statement in my column that President Eisenhower had high blood pressure and a heart condition," Pearson said. "I leave it to the public to decide from subsequent events whether Hagerty or I was right."

"Again on several occasions prior to the President's operation, I reported that he had a chronic digestive condition. In neither the televised doctors report on Feb. 14 nor in Eisenhower's own report on his medical condition was this admitted. It was admitted, however, afterward."

haustion or something more serious, it hit Ike while he was driving back to the airport from Minneapolis. He suddenly turned to others in the car and announced: "I can't take any more of this. Let's get out of here."

The presidential limousine took off from the motorcade and sped to the airport, followed by a secret service car. Ike was hustled into his plane, The Columbine, without bidding good-bye to the local dignitaries. Later it was explained that the secret service had pulled his car out of line because it was too close to other cars. This, however, was not the real reason.

At the next stop, Seattle, Ike clenched his teeth and waved to the crowd along the route to the hotel. Then he closeted himself in his suite for 24 hours, seeing no one but his family and physician.

Aides explained he was "working on a speech." But he never does this without consulting his speech writers, who were barred along with the rest of his staff from seeing him.

Mamie Worried

Later, after his Portland, Ore., speech, Ike was overheard reassuring Mamie: "I'm all right. I'm all right. I feel fine."

Mamie had rushed up to him when he finished speaking, obviously worried. And Ike's reassurance was broadcast over TV. The late viewers who listened to the Portland speech heard it and were puzzled over the reason for Mrs. Eisenhower's concern.

Returning to Washington, the President canceled his press conference and vetoed a long-scheduled address to the United Nations, on atoms for peace, which would have given him an opportunity to expound on his favorite campaign theme, peace, and canceled plans for a motorcade through Manhattan.

Democrats charge that the weekend Walter Reed check-up will be more political than medical, since the doctors wouldn't dare find Ike in anything but the best of health a week before election. The expected clean bill of health is politically timed, Democrats say, to influence voters who may have doubts about the President's health.

Doctors OK Ike

They point out that the same doctors, on February 14, after an earlier head-to-toe examination, pronounced Ike in excellent health. Again it was announced on May 13 after another head-to-toe examination that he was in perfect health.

In neither case did the doctors refer to Ike's ileitis condition, although after his June operation it was explained that he had had a history of ileitis, which made it possible for them to make a diagnosis and agree on an operation so quickly.

Democrats now predict the doctors again will not tell the whole truth about Ike's condition. In fact, Adlai Stevenson is seriously considering calling upon Ike to let an impartial, bipartisan group of doctors examine him. Stevenson's argument would be that Ike made a political issue of his medical check up by timing it on election eve, therefore he owes it to the voters to give them the full, impartial truth about his health. In return, Stevenson also would submit to a medical exam by the same doctors.

Patrolman's Lesson For Wife Backfires

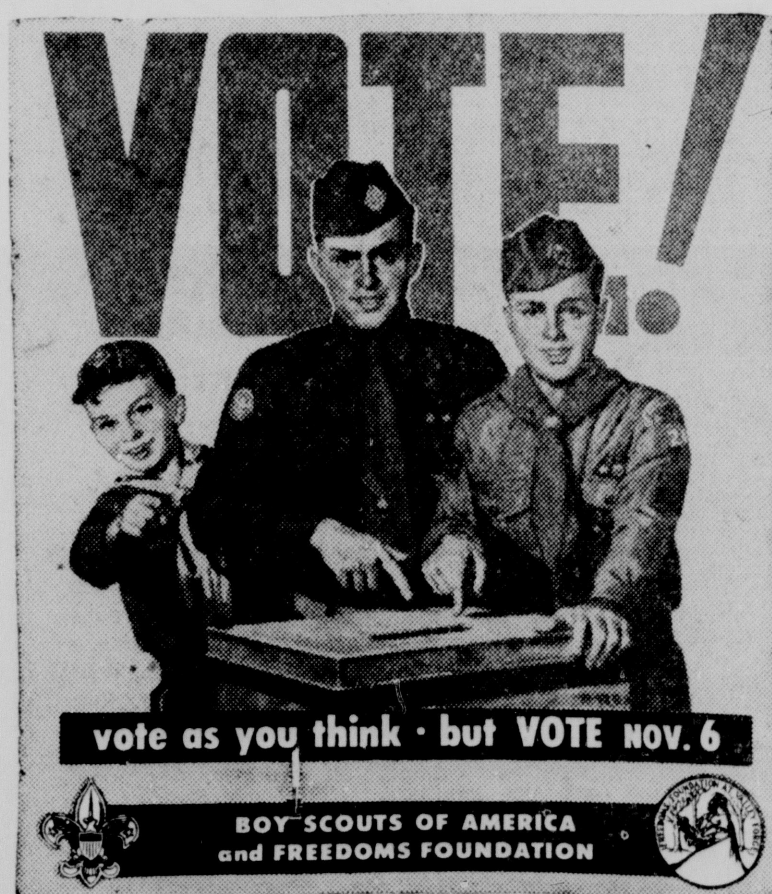

SACRAMENTO, Calif. —From the family car which his wife had left unlocked in a shopping district, a California highway patrol officer took some packages.

On the officer's arrival home, relates the patrol's monthly report, without names, the wife wailed that her purchases had been stolen.

"No use getting excited," the officer said, bringing in the missing packages.

"But let this be a lesson to you." "Very interesting," last worded the Mrs. "I forgot to mention I went back and bought the same things again. You can return the packages you took."

Boy Scouts to Get Out the Vote

The nation's 4,175,134 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and their leaders, in cooperation with Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, are busy in a nonpartisan Get-Out-the-Vote campaign. One and a quarter million of these posters are being placed on display to remind citizens to vote. Just before Election Day, November 6, the Scouts will place Liberty Bell banners on the doorknobs of 35,000,000 homes urging every citizen to vote.

Cool Stamp Offer

What Uncle Sam won't do to keep a philatelist these days. Again this year the Navy is going to haul thousands of letters all the way to the South Pole on Operation Deepfreeze and then return them to stamp collectors.

The letters will be postmarked from Antarctica by members of the expedition during the spare time on long winter nights. Most of the mail will arrive back in the United States in April or May next year.

To prove their generosity, the Post Office and the Navy are charging only three cents a letter for this service, or six cents if you prefer an air-mail souvenir. Five letters to a customer is the limit.

Let's face it, that's a bargain. But how many taxpayers are Philatelists?

Thought for Today--

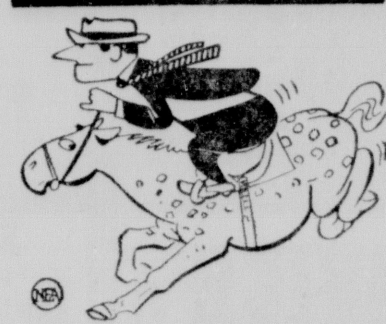

In that time shall the present be brought unto the Lord of hosts of a people scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hosts, the mount Zion.

Executive Uses Breakfast For Business Conferences

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone has heard of the three-hour business luncheon, but some tycoons now are going in for two-hour business breakfasts.

One of them is William Zeckendorf, head of a real estate firm which hires 70 architects and now has on its drafting boards building projects valued at a billion dollars.

To keep tab on his sprawling enterprises in the United States and Canada, Zeckendorf summons his executives once a week to a breakfast conference in the firm's Madison Avenue penthouse office.

I attended one of these unusual sessions recently, and here's how it went.

Zeckendorf, a tank-sized man, and a dozen or so of his top aides briskly waded through platters of ham and eggs and steaming cups of coffee. The aides had pads of yellow paper and sharpened pencils before them. Zeckendorf had a silver bell and an ivory telephone.

After a little desultory talk on politics—Zeckendorf wasn't sure Eisenhower was "the right president for me" unless he pitched into the campaign a little harder—the conference got down to business.

Then, 37 minutes late, in came Billy Rose, Broadway showman and entertainment consultant to the firm, looking a bit like an owl roused at noon.

There were a dozen matters on the agenda, but only one came up. That was the question of building an ice rink at Roosevelt Field, a 50 million dollar new shopping center on Long Island.

The fur began to fly at once. Herb Silverman, young president of the center (Zeckendorf is board chairman), was lukewarm toward the whole idea of an ice rink in a shopping center. At best he wanted a simple outdoor rink that would cost only $250,000.

Rose wanted to enclose the rink, put in concession booths, a restaurant, and finally a bowling alley.

"A lame brain idea," said Silverman who thought the area could be put to better uses.

"I never have been so put-upon, frustrated and humiliated in my whole life," bellowed Rose. "There are no personalities in this," rumbled Zeckendorf. "Nobody is to get his feelings hurt."

After it turned out Rose's plan for an amusement area would cost more than a million dollars Zeckendorf said:

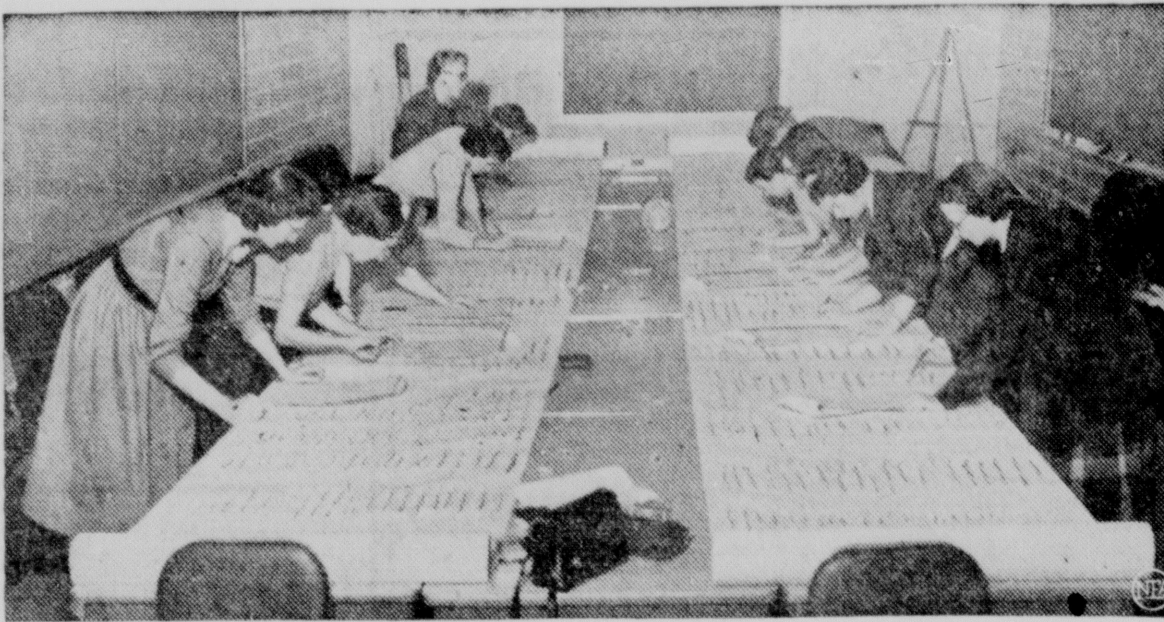

"I don't want to poor boy this. To do less than the ultimate is to do nothing—to ruin your reputation."

The quarrel between Rose and Silverman went on for more than an hour, each arguing vehemently as Zeckendorf appeared to back first one, then the other.

"Nothing happens by itself except failure," he said at one point, and at another: "Our whole philosophy has changed. We're getting down to teaspoonfuls of land. That's the whole art in real estate—to take a bit of paydirt and raise it to its highest possible earning level."

The waiter passed around a box of 60-cent cigars. I took one. By then Zeckendorf had decided Rose and Silverman should go ahead with Rose's plan. He also endorsed the suggestion to add a double-deck parking lot.

The fumes from the expensive cigar and the big money talk began to go to my head. I was about to suggest that they build a stadium for the Brooklyn Dodgers next to the ice rink, but the conference broke up. I felt certain both Rose and Silverman were

ROLL-CALL OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP—Volunteers letter a three-block-long scroll in Wausau, Wis., with the names of all registered voters as they prepare for an all-out drive to become the first city in the nation to have 100 per cent registration for the forthcoming election. The scroll was to be carried in a torchlight parade as workers conducted a door-to-door campaign to smoke out every reluctant registrant before their Oct. 24 deadline.

Long Wait

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP)—John Daniels told Chancery Court recently he had given his wife a chance to return to his home before seeking a divorce.

"How long did you wait?" acting Chancellor Tom Tubb asked. "Since 1927," Daniels replied. "Divorce granted," Tubb decided.

heading for a bottle of sodium bicarbonate tablets. "You see we get something done at these breakfasts, don't you?" said Zeckendorf genially. "And we aren't bothered by the telephone."

As I left I remarked to an executive that I had never before seen a million-dollars spent over a breakfast. "Oh," he said, "you only saw the first round. This will come up at least half a dozen more times before we really decide what we'll do."

The one sure thing about the breakfast business conference seems to be this: It gives tycoons a chance to get their ulcers activated earlier in the day.

Discloses Hope For Increasing Agents' Salaries

COLUMBIA (AP)—The final portion of the University of Missouri budget request filed Friday disclosed the university hopes to increase salaries for county agents, agricultural experiment stations and adult education employees.

It also hopes to augment those staffs through a legislative appropriation of $4,349,000 for the 1957-59 biennium.

The combined report seeks a total of $32,365,000 from the General Assembly for the next 2-year period.

Dr. Elmer Ellis, university president, said the extramural requests, for service, rather than educational phases of the school, include:

$2,328,000 for the agricultural extension service, an increase from $1,700,000 two years ago; $1,796,000 for agricultural research, an increase from $1,190,000, and $225,000 for the adult education and

...less to own...less to run...last longer, too!

Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value: what you get and what it costs. You'll like what you see.

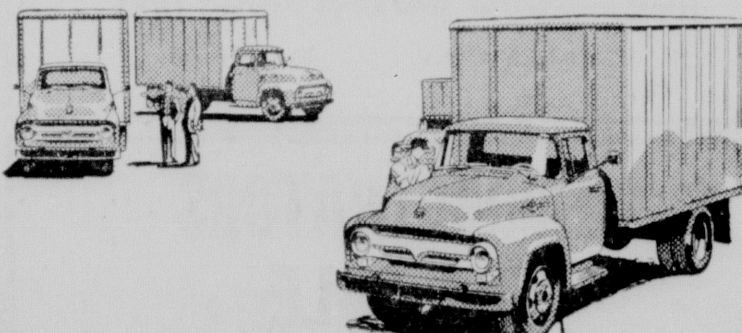

Look at the costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Ford's Short Stroke engines are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life. And a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more for your money in a Ford. For example, only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power in every truck, V-8 or Six. Sodium-cooled exhaust valves in Heavy Duty engines run up to 225° cooler, last longer. More comfort with a Driverized Cab. More safety with Ford's exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully... consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.
